P R E F A C E.

*I*NGRATITUDE towards Men, after signal Favours received, is, amongst all civilized People, looked upon with a just Detestation; insomuch that the moral Gentiles, in Ages past, thought they could give no worser Character of a Person, than to call him ungrateful: How much more when are Christians (especially in a Time of such Light as now shineth) engaged to shun this Sin of Ingratitude towards their God, whom they sensibly know to be the Fountain of all their Mercies? And surely, next to the infinite Mercy shewed them for Christ's Sake, in causing the Day-spring from on high to visit their Souls, remarkable outward Deliverances ought, in a more than commonly remarkable Manner, to be the Objects of their Gratitude to their great Deliverer. I must confess, Thanksgiving (which is what we poor Mortals can return, for the manifold Favours we daily receive from him) hath its Rise in the Heart; and as out of the Abundance of the Heart the Mouth speaketh, how can those who are truly thankful in Heart, but render the Calves of their Lips, in telling to their Friends and Acquaintance, how great Things God hath done for them ! Nay, they are so affected with such eminent Appearances of the protecting Hand of Providence for their Help, Preservation and Deliverance, that they are not willing to confine it to them only, but to publish it to the World, that the Fame of their G O D may be spread from Sea to Sea, and from one End of the Earth to the other.

The following Relation being large, I shall endeavour to be short ; only, some of the Things which seem to me most remarkable, I would more particularly recommend to the Reader's Observation.

1. The Hearts of all Men are in the Hands of God, he can turn them as he pleases. When these Men-eaters Fury was at Height, their Knives in one Hand, and the poor Shipwreck'd Peoples Heads in the other, their Knees upon their Shoulders, and their Looks dismal ; on a sudden, the Savages were struck dumb, and their Countenances changed, that they look'd like another People ; the Cassekey (or King) becoming as a Safeguard to the Distressed, from the Injuries of his own Men : Yea, such Confidence put he in them, that he would trust them to remove the Money he had taken from themselves, before he would trust his own People. When they were got from these to another Place, where they expected more Safety, they found themselves disappointed, fresh Dangers presenting themselves as dismally as before ; yet God prevented any further Mischief, than the stripping them of those poor Rags the others had left them, and some other Abuses, which by that Time were grown familiar to them, and were look'd upon as light Afflictions : The Cassekey's Wife being made an Instrument for their Delivery, she, and some others, having something of Tendernefs of Heart in them, though among such an inhuman Crew.

2. Many were the particular Deliverances, upon occasion of Injuries offered : Once an Arrow shot at them, narrowly escaped them : Another Time, some going to shoot Arrows at them, certain of their own Company caught hold of their Bows and Arms ; Yea, though some of them shot, yet their Arrows mist. Not to mention the frequent Dangers they were in, upon every slight Suspicion of their being English ; of which, more anon. And well might these poor Sufferers be in continual Fear of their Lives, since about a Twelve-month before, a parcel of Dutch-men who had likewise suffered Ship-wreck, had been killed and devoured ; and moreover, of the many Vessels supposed to be lost on that Coast, these are the first Company that were known to have escaped. Neither is it so wonderful, that they are thus cruel to Strangers, since they are unnatural to their own aged People ; they having no more Compassion on them, than to make them Slaves to the Younger. Yet are these Men-eaters as cowardly as cruel ; when the Spaniards came up, the Sight of a rusty Musket presented towards them, would make several of them fly.

3. The Dangers they were delivered from, arose not only from Men, but the Elements also, which God permitted to threaten and afflict them. One Time, rowing in their Boat, the Sea swell'd so, that it was dangerous continuing there all Night, and as dangerous to endeavour for the Shore ; yet Providence failed them not, but conducted them safe thither, as though there had been a Lane made through the Breakers. Another Time, by reason of a great Flood, they were forced to remove their Lodgings several Times, and for divers Days were in a continual Apprehension of being drowned ; at length they were preserved on an Oyster-hill. Not to mention the frequent Dangers they were in, by reason of the extream Cold, too tedious to touch on here ; wherein this, however is remarkable, that God can both administer Strength in the Midst of Weakness, and also take away Strength, and cause Weakness to seize, whenever he pleases. Here was an old Man, a Woman with a sucking Child, and another with Child, Persons seemingly ingly very unlikely to encounter such Hardships, all escaped ; and yet divers Negroes, used to more Hardships, perished.

4. As to Lodging, I shall say little ; any discreet Person may imagine how hard it was to People, well brought up, to lie on a Floor swarming with abundance of many Sorts of creeping Things, occasioned by the throwing the Berry-stones on the Floor, and letting all the Nastiness they made lie there, which bred these Vermin ; and yet perhaps might be accounted good Lodging, in Comparison of the cold Ground whereon they often lay afterwards unsheltered, exposed to the bleak Blasts of the rigid North-West Wind.

5. Their Food most scanty, the best of it such, as (I am ready to think) the meanest Negro here would not touch with his Lips ; sometimes the Gills and Guts of Fish pick'd off a Dung-bill ; sometimes the Scraps the Indians flung away, and the Water they boiled their Fish in, though never so undecently handled. At first their Sorrows were so great, and their Alarms so many, that they could not eat ; afterwards their Diet so uncouth, they could not away with it ; until, at length, Hunger had so far prevailed over them, that they could eat with an Appetite the Palmetto-Berries ; the Taste whereof was once irksome, and ready to take away their Breath ; yea, so fond were they of them,

The P R E F A C E.

them, that the getting of about a Bushel accidentally, was look'd on as a great Prize.

6. Their being forced to mask themselves under the Name of Spaniards, though few of them could speak any Spanish, was another Hardship ; mostly because the Natives often suspected them to be English, and thereby they were continually in Danger of their Lives. Whether their Cruelty against the English proceeds from their being under no Apprehension of Danger from them, and so may think themselves lawless in what they do against our Nation ; or whether it proceeds from any particular Disgust offered them by some English, I shall not determine : However, it would do well, for those that are not under their Power, to avoid giving them any just Cause of Offence, lest their Neighbours suffer for their Faults. One of these Savages could complain, That, some Years past, he had been taken off by some of our English Sloops, from whom he escaped by Swimming ; and was therewith disgusted, insomuch, that could he by his Sifting, have found out that they were English, it might have proved of ill Consequence to them.

7. The Courtesy of the Governor of Augustine, who cloathed these naked People, fed their hungry Stomachs, and caused them to be conducted safely to Carolina, is not to be passed by without due Notice ;

The P R E F A C E.

Notice ; especially being a Man of another Nation, as well as of a different Religion ; and what is more, of such an one as doth not teach its Votaries so much Compassion towards those they count Hereticks : Neither let me forget the Governor of Carolina, whose Generosity compleated what the Governor of Augustine had begun, in assisting and cherishing these our afflicted Friends and Country Folks ; with which I shall conclude these Remarks, to treat more particularly concerning that faithful Servant of the Lord, Robert Barrow, who was one of this Company.

This Man of God, whose Habitation was in one of the Northern Counties of England, was early convinced of the blessed Truth of God, professed by the People called Quakers, and soon after had a Dispensation of the Gospel committed to him. He lived, in his native Country, in Esteem amongst his Neighbours, for his Godly Conversation, and honoured in the Church of God, as an Elder, who had abode faithful in his Testimony, both in preaching the Gospel, suffering for the same, and behaving himself answerable thereunto. And in the Year 1694, the Spirit of God (from whom he first had his Commission) requiring him to come over into these Parts, to preach the Gospel here also, he was not disobedient to the Heavenly Call, but gave up to do the Will of God, tho' in a Cross to his own, as appeared by an Expression of his before he left England, which was to this Effect: That he had rather immediately have laid down his natural Life there, if by so doing he could have kept his Peace with God, than to have crossed the Seas to America. Well, hither he came; and after he had thoroughly visited these Parts, he took Ship for the West-India Islands; and at length, was returning from Jamaica to this Town of Philadelphia, when these Calamities, mentioned in the ensuing Journal, befel him: How he behaved himself under them is therein expressed, with what Patience he was carried through them, with what Faith he overcame, even the very worst of Men; so that it may be said, He was more than a Conquerer over those Blood-thirsty Canibals, looking to him who was invisible, and by his Grace seeing beyond them and their Cruelty; by Prayer wrestling with God for a Blessing, even the Blessing of being delivered out of their barbarous Hands, and laying his Bones amongst faithful Friends; and so effectual were his fervent Prayers, that they prevailed with God, and so gracious was his God to him, that he sealed an Assurance upon his Spirit, That his Prayers were heard; and should in due Time be answered, before he was yet off his Knees. And doubtless, he was made a Strength and a Comfort to his Companions in Affliction, whose Remembrance will not be easily blotted out of their Minds.

The P R E F A C E.

One remarkable Passage I cannot well omit, which demonstrates he had well learned of him who is a God of Truth, to speak the Truth upon all Occasions, though with the Hazard of his Life. For, as the Reader may observe in the Series of this following Relation, these poor People, for the Safeguard of their Lives, had assumed the Name of Spaniards; some on that Account, asserting what was wrong, others concealing the Truth; yet this honest-hearted Man, being directly asked the Question, Nickaleer, Nickaleer? (their Word for Englishmen) could do neither; but in Simplicity answered, Yes: Being asked so concerning another, he again answered Yes. Yet, though for his plain Dealing, he was stript of his Clothes, which till then he had saved, God suffered not these Savages to touch his Life, or the Lives of any of his Company.

Thus he passed through this afflicting Trial, and at length arrived at this Place on the 1st Day of the second Month, 1697, though in much Weakness, having been taken very ill of the Belly-ach and Flux at Augustine, of which he never recovered, but still grew worse and worse to his lying Day. It was about the 8th Hour in the Evening when the Barkentine, he was Passenger on, arrived at this Place, and divers Friends went on board, in order to get him ashore, but he being in a very weak Condition, they could not remove him at that Time. He declared, His great Satisfaction that the Lord had granted his Request, that he might lay down his Bones in this Place ; that his Heart was strong, and he hoped he might first see Friends again at the Meeting. He made mention of the Goodness of God to him, and that his Presence had attended him in all his Exercises.

The next Morning, being the 2d of the Second Month, divers Friends went on board, to help the Vessel up to a Wharf, in order to get him on Shore ; in which Time he spake as before related of God's Power attending him. About the 7th Hour, divers Friends carried him in a Hammock (being wrapt up in a Blanket, and Clothed to keep him warm) to the House of Samuel Carpenter, where he declared, The Goodness of God to him ; and that his Heart was yet strong, and his Memory and Understanding good. After which he was shifted, and then slept a considerable Time.

On the same Day, some Friends coming into the Room to visit him, at the Sight of them he seemed to rejoice, and putting forth his Hand, was ready to embrace them in much Love, and in a very tender Frame of Spirit. The Friends expressed their Gladness to see him ; but said, They were sorry to see him so very weak : To which he replied, Although my Body be weak, my Mind is sound, and Memory good. And further said, 'The Lord hath been very good to me, all along to this very Day, and this Morning hath sweetly refreshed me. And further added, The Lord hath answered my Desire, for I desired Content, and that I might come to this Place to lay my Bones amongst you. And afterwards said, It is a good thing to have a Conscience void of Offence, both towards God, and towards Men.

On the 4th Day of the Second Month, being the First Day of the Week, about the fifth Hour in the Morning, he desired a Friend to write for him to his dear Wife. To remember his dear Love to her ; and to let her know of his Travels, and being here ; and that the Lord was with him ; that his outward Affairs were settled, and that she had where-with-all to live on. He further said, divers Friends being present, That the Lord was with him, and all Things were well ; and that he had nothing to do but to die : And accordingly on this Day he departed ; and on the Third Day following, being the 6th Day of the Second Month, was buried in Friends Burying-ground, in this Town of Philadelphia.

And now, having brought my Relation, concerning this good Man, to the last Period of his life, I might very well have put a Period to my

THE PREFACE.

Preface : But that I foresee, some Persons may be ready to say, Here is an Account of very strange Passages, but of what Credit is the Relator? May we depend upon his Authority, without Danger of being imposed upon? To such I answer, He is a Man well known in this Town, of good Credit and Repute; on whose Fidelity and Veracity, those who have any Knowledge of him, will readily rely, without suspecting Fallacy. But, that in the Mouth of two or three Witnesses every Thing may be established, besides him and his Wife, a Person, whose Residence (when at Home) is in this Town, Joseph Kirle, the Master of the Barkentine in which they suffered Shipwreck, a Man of an honest Character amongst his Neighbours, had the Perusal of it before it went to the Press, and approved it. With which I shall conclude, wishing my Reader much Satisfaction in the Reading of it, but never the Unhappiness of experiencing, in proper Person, the Truth of it.

TRAVELS and SUFFERINGS of several Persons, who were Shipwreck'd in the Gulph of Florida.

THE Persons on board, were Joseph Kirle, Commander of the Barkentine Reformation; Richard Limpeny, Mate; Solomon Cresson, Joseph Buckley, Thomas Fownes, Thomas Femmet, Nathaniel Randal, John Hiliard the Master's Boy, and Ben the Master's Negro, Mariners; Jonathan Dickenson, Mary Dickenson, Jonathan Dickenson, a sucking Child of six Months old, Robert Barrow, and Benjamin Allen, Passengers; with Peter, London, Jack, Cæsar, Negro Men; Cajoe a Child; Hagar, Sarah, Bella, Susanna, Quensa, Negro Women, and Venus an Indian Girl, all belonging to Jonathan Dickenson.

The 23d Day of the Sixth Month, called August, 1696, being in Company with twelve or thirteen Sail of Merchant - men, under Convoy of the Hampshire Frigate, Captair. Fletcher Commander, we sailed from Port-Royal in Jamaica, being bound for Pensilvania.

The 24th Day. About Noon came a Sloop from Port-Royal, meeting us off Portland, and gave an Account of the French Fleet being at Cape Antonio.

In the Evening we lay by, off Black-River Mouth, in order to go the next Morning to Blewfields, but it being calm for many Days following, the Current drove to the Westward of the Island.

The 31st Day. This Evening we lost Sight of the Hampshire Frigate, and then beat to Windward again.

The 1st Day of the Seventh Month, called September, we anchored to the Westward of Savanna la Mar, and lost our Anchor.

The 2d Day. This Day we got into Blewfields Road to Water.

The 4th Day. This Morning we sailed from Blewfields, intending our Passage thro' the Gulph.

The 14th Day. About Noon we were abreast with Cape Antonio, and about a League to the Eastward of the Cape was a Fire making a great Smoak ; at length some People appeared on the Bay, making Signs for us to put on Shore ; but having a fresh Gale, Gale, and not knowing who they were, our Master would not.

The same Day we made the Table-land of the Havanna, and in the Evening stood over for Cape Florida; but about eight or nine at Night we saw two Lights about a Mile from us, and we fearing we were got amongst the French Fleet, tacked and stood for the Haven.

The 18th Day. This Morning no Sail appearing, and being most of the Day calm, we lay about four Leagues off the Havanna, where we designed to go and enquire concerning the French Fleet; but in the Afternoon came a Turnado from the Land, and our Master being on the Quarter-deck, our Boom jybbing knocked him down and broke his Leg, which Accident was grievous to him and us; but having Things suitable, with little Experience, we set it again. At this Time I had four of my Family very sick, one whereof was an Indian Girl, who just as I had bound up the Master's Leg, was taken with Fits, which continued some Hours, and then she died. In the Evening we stood over for Cape Florida, having the Wind North-Easterly.

The 19th Day. This Morning the Wind not being fair, we stood up for Cuba, and about Sun-rising espied those Sails that we saw before, they standing as we stood; therefore we supposed them to be some of our
Company:

Company : We wronged them in failing, and by Noon lost Sight of them. About four in the Afternoon we espied another Ship to the Eastward of us (we being about four Leagues off Shore, and about fifteen Leagues to the Eastward of the Havanna) and supposing her to be a French-man, we stood in for the Shore, but she gained on us : Then a Turnado sprang up, and a great Shower of Rain followed, which hid us. Hereupon we tacked and stood over for Florida, and when Night came on, we saw no more of that Sail, having the Wind fair.

The 20th Day. This Morning we were in the Gulph, having a fair Wind, and saw again the two Ships following us, which we believed to be of our Company.

The 21st Day. This Morning the Wind at East, and shifting Northerly.

The 22d Day. This Day the Storm began at the North-East.

The 23d Day. About one o' Clock in the Morning we felt our Vessel strike some few Strokes, and then she floated again for five or six Minutes, before she ran fast aground, where she beat vehemently at first : The Wind was violent, and it was so very dark, that our Mariners could see no Land, and the Seas broke over us, so that we were in a Quarter of an Hour floating in the Cabin : We then endeavoured to get a Candle lighted, lighted, which in a little Time was accomplished.

By this Time we felt the Vessel not to strike so often ; but several of her Timbers were broken, and some Plank started, and the Seas continued breaking over us, and no Land to be seen. We concluded to keep in the Vessel as long as she would hold together, and about the third Hour in the Morning, we supposed we saw Land at some considerable Distance ; at which Time we found the Water began to run out of her, and at Day-light perceived we were upon the Shore, on a Beach lying on the Breach of the Sea, which, at Times, as the Surges reversed, was dry. In taking a View of our Vessel, we found that the Violence of the Weather had forced many Sorts of Sea-Birds on board of her, some of which were, by force of the Wind, blown into and under our Hen-coops, and many remained alive. Our Hogs and Sheep were washed away, and swam on Shore, except one of the Hogs, which remained in the Vessel.

We rejoiced at this our Preservation from the raging Seas, but at the same Instant feared the sad Consequences that followed ; yet, having Hopes still, we got our Sick and Lane on Shore, also our Provisions, with Spars and Sails to make a Tent. I went with one Negro to view the Land, and seek the most convenient Place for that Purpose ; but the the Wilderness Country looked very dismal, having no Trees, but only Sand-hills covered with shrubby Palmetto, the Stalks of which were prickly, so that there was no walking amongst them: I at last espied a Place, almost a Furlong within the Beach, being a Bottom, to which I with my Negro, soon cut a Passage, but the Storm and Rain continued. Thither I got my Wife and sick Child, who was but six Months and twelve Days old; also Robert Barrow an aged Man, who had been sick about five or six Months; our Master, who some Days before had broke his Leg, and my Kinsman Benjamin Allen, who had been very ill with a violent Fever for most Part of the Voyage: These, with others, we got to the Place, under the Shelter of some few Bushes, which broke off the Wind, but kept none of the Rain from them, but I got a Fire made; and the rest of our People were getting the Provisions ashore; but our Chests, Trunks, and Cloathing, were all very wet and cold.

About the eighth or ninth Hour came two Indian Men (being naked, except a small Piece of plaited Work of Straws, which just hid their private Parts, and fastned behind like a Horse-tail in likeness, made of a sort of Silk-grass) from the Southward, running fiercely, and foaming at the Mouth, having no Weapons but their Knives, and forthwith, not making any stop, violently seized the two first of our Men they met with, who were carrying Corn from the Vessel to the Top of the Bank, where I stood to receive it and put it into a Cask; they used them not at all, as the Men resisted not; but taking them under the Arm, brought them towards me. Their Countenances were very furious and bloody; they had their Hair tied in a Roll behind, in which stuck two Bones shaped, the one like a broad Arrow, the other a Spear-head; and the rest of our Men coming from the Vessel, asked me, What they should do? Whether they should get their Guns to kill these Indians? But I perswaded them otherwise, and desired them to be quiet, shewing their Inability to defend us from what would follow, and to put our Trust in the Lord, who was able to defend to the uttermost.

I then walked towards the Place where our Sick and Lambe were, (the two Indian Men following me) and I told them the Indians were come and coming upon us; and whilst the two Indians stood with a wild, furious countenance, looking upon us, I thought within myself to give them some Tobacco and Pipes, which they greedily snatch'd from me, and making a snuffing Noise, like a wild Beast, turned their Backs on us and ran away.

We communed together, and considered our Condition, being among a barbarous People, such as were generally accounted Men-

Men-Eaters, and believed these two were gone to alarm their People. We sat ourselves down, expecting Cruelty and hard Death, except it should please the Almighty God to work wonderfully for our Deliverance. In this deep Concernment, some of us were not left without Hopes; blessed be the Name of the Lord, in whom we trusted.

As we were under a deep Exercise and Concernment, a Motion arose from one of us, that if we should put ourselves under the Denomination of Spaniards (it being known that that Nation had some Influence on them) and one of us, named Solomon Cresson, speaking the Spanish Language well, it was hoped this might be a Means for our Delivery; to which, most of the Company assented.

Within two or three Hours after the Departure of the two Indians, some of our People being near the Breach or Strand, returned and said, The Indians were coming in a very great Number, all running and shouting. About this Time the Storm was much abated, the Rain ceased, and the Sun appeared, which had been hid from us several Days; and most of the Indians went to the Vessel, casting forth whatever they could lay hold on, except Rum, Sugar, Molasses, Beef and Pork; but their Cassekey (for so they call their King) with about thirty more, came down to us in a furious Manner, having a dismal Aspect, and foaming at the Mouth;

their Weapons were large Spanish Knives, except their Cassekey's, who had a Bayonet that belonged to the Master of our Vessel; they rushed in upon us, and cried Nickaleer, Nickaleer? We understood them not at first; but they repeating it to us often, at last they cried Espania, or Spaniard? By which we understood them, that at the first they meant English; but they were answered to the latter Spanish, Yea; to which they replied, No Espania, no; but all cry'd Nickaleer, Nickaleer: We sitting on our Chests, Boxes and Trunks, and some on the Ground, the Indians surrounded us, but we stirred nor moved not, but sat all, or most of us, very calm and still, and some of us in a good Frame of spirit, being freely given up to the Will of God.

Whilst we were thus sitting as a People almost unconcern'd, these Bloody-minded Creatures placed themselves each behind one, picking and throwing away the Bushes that were nigh, or under their Feet; the Cassekey had placed himself behind me, standing on the Chest which I sat upon, and they all had their Arms extended, with their Knives in their Hands, ready to execute their bloody Design, some taking hold of us by the Heads, with their Knees set against our Shoulders, and in this Posture they seem'd to wait for the Cassekey to begin: They were high in Words, which we understood not; but on a sudden, it pleased the Lord to work wonderfully for our Preservation, and instantly all these Savage-men were struck Dumb, and like Men amazed, for the Space of a quarter of an Hour; in which Time their Countenances fell, and they looked like another People. They then quitted their Places they had taken behind us, and came in amongst us, requiring to have all our Chests, Trunks, and Boxes unlock'd, which being done, they divided all that was in them. Our Money the Cassekey took to himself, privately hiding it in the Bushes; then they went to pulling off our Clothes, leaving each of us only a Pair of Breeches, or an old Coat, except my Wife and Child, Robert Barrow, and our Master, from whom they took but little that Day: Having thus done, they asked us again, Nickaleer, Nickaleer? But we answered, by saying, Pensilvania.

We then began to enquire after St. Augustine, also we would talk of St. a Lucea, which was a Town that lay about a Degree to the Northward; but they cunningly would seem to perswade us, that they both lay to the Southward: We signified to them, that they lay to the Northward; and we talked of the Havanna, that lay to the Southward. These Places they had heard of, and knew which Way they lay.

At length the Cassekey told us, how long it was to St. a Lucea by Days Travel, but cared not not to hear us mention St. Augustine. They would signify by Signs, we should go to the Southward. We answered, that we must go to the Northward for Augustine. When they found they could not otherwise persuade us, they signified, that we should go to the Southward for the Havanna, and that it was but a little Way.

We gave them to understand, that we came that Way, and were for the Northward; all which took place with them. We perceived that the Cassekey's Heart was tendered towards us, for he kept mostly with us, and did the remaining Part of that Day keep off the petty Robbers, which would have had our few Rags from us. Some Time before Night we had a Shower of Rain, on which the Cassekey made Signs for us to build some Shelter; whereupon we got our Tent up, and some Leaves to lie upon.

About this Time our Vessel lay dry on shore, and the Indians gathered themselves together, Men and Women, some Hundreds in Number, and having got all the Goods out of her, and covered the Bay for a large Distance, they opened the Stuffs and Linen, and spread them to dry. They would touch no sort of strong Drink, Sugar, nor Molasses, but left it in the Vessel. They shouted and made great Noises in the Time of Plunder; but Night coming on, the Cassekey put those Chests and Trunks, which he had reserved for himself, into our Tent ; which pleased us, and gave us an Expectation of his Company, for he was now become a Defender of us from the Rage of others. The Cassekey went down to the Water-side amongst his People, and returned with three old Coats that were wet and torn, which he gave us ; one whereof I had. We made a Fire at each End of our Tent, and laid ourselves down, it being dark, but hearing hideous Noises, and fearing that they were not satisfied, we expected them upon us. The chief Indian (or Cassekey) lay in our Tent upon his Chests ; and about Midnight we heard a Company of Indians coming from the Vessel towards us, making terrible Shouts, and coming fiercely up to the Tent ; but the Cassekey called to them, which caused them to stand. It seem'd they had kill'd a Hog and brought him ; so the Cassekey asked us, If we would eat the Hog ? Solomon Cresson, by our Desire, answered him, That we used not to eat at that Time of the Night ; whereupon they threw the Hog down before the Tent, and the Cassekey sent them away. They went shouting to the Sea-shore, where there were some Hundreds of them revelling about our Wreck.

The 25th of the Seventh Month, being the Sixth Day of the Week.

This Morning, having purposed to endeavour for Liberty to pass to the Northward,
Solomon

Solomon opened the Matter to the Cassekey, who answered, We must go to his Town to the Southward. This occasioned us to press him more urgently, to let us go for St. a Lucea, (this Place having a Spanish Name, we supposed to have found it under the Government of that Nation, from whence we might expect Relief.) But the Cassekey told us, That it was about two or three Days Journey thither ; and that when we came there, we should have our Throats and Scalps cut, and be shot, burnt and eaten. We thought that Information was put out to divert us, so that we were more earnest to go ; but he sternly denied us, saying, We must go to his Town.

About eight o' Clock this Morning the Cassekey came into our Tent, and set himself amongst us, asking the old Question, Nickaleer, Nickaleer ? And directing his Speech to one in particular of us, he in Simplicity answered, Yes ; which caused the Cassekey to ask the said Person, if another, which he pointed to, was Nickaleer ? He answered, Yes : Then he said, Totus (or all) Nickaleer, and went from amongst us ; but he returned in a short Time, with some of his Men with him, and afresh they went greedily to strip my Wife and Child, Robert Barrow, and our Master, who had escaped till now.

Thus were we left almost naked, till the Feud was somewhat abated, and then we got some Things from them, which displeased some of them ; and we then cut our Tent in Pieces, and got the most of our Cloathing out of it, which the Indians perceiving, took the Remains from us : We Men had most of us Breeches, and Pieces of Canvas ; and the whole Company interceded for my Wife, that all might not be taken from her. About Noon, the Indians having removed the Plunder off the Bay, and many of them gone, a Guard was provided, arm'd with Bows and Arrows, with whom we were summoned to march, and a Burden provided for every one to carry, that was any ways able. Our Master, with his broken Leg, was help'd along by his Negro Ben, and my Wife was forced to carry her Child, they not suffering any of us to relieve her ; for if any of us offer'd to lay down our Burden, we were threatned to be shot. Thus were we forced along the Beach bare-footed.

We having saved one of the Master's Quadrants, and Seaman's Calender, with two other Books, as we walked along the Bay, (the Time suiting) our Mate Richard Limpeny took an Observation, and we found ourselves to be in the Latitude of twenty-seven Degrees and eight Minutes : Some of the Indians were offended at it, and when he held up his Quadrant to observe, one of them drew an Arrow to shoot him ; but it pleased God hitherto to prevent them from shedding any of our Blood.

One Passage I have omitted, viz. Two of our Mariners, named Thomas Fownes and Richard Limpeny, went forth this Morning from our Tent, down to the Bay where the Indians were, and viewing of them at some Distance, an Indian came running upon them, with his Knife in his Hand, and took hold of Thomas Fownes to stab him ; but Thomas fell on his Knees, using a Spanish Ceremony, and begged him Not to kill him ; whereupon the Indian desisted, and bid him be gone to the Place from whence he came ; and the said Thomas, at his Return, acquainted us how narrowly he had escaped.

After we had travelled about five Miles along the deep Sand, the Sun being extream hot, we came to an Inlet, on the other Side whereof was the Indian Town, being little Wigwams made of small Poles stuck in the Ground, which they bend one to another, making an Arch, and covering them with Thatch of small Palmetto Leaves ; here we were commanded to sit down, and the Cassekey came to us, and with his Hand scratch'd a Hole in the Sand, about a Foot deep, and then came to Water, which he made Signs for us to come and drink of, and we being extream thirsty, did, but the Water was almost salt.

Whilst we sate here we saw great Fires making on the other Side of the Inlet, which some of us thought were preparing for us ;

but after an Hour's Time being spent here, at length came an Indian with a small Cannoo from the other Side, and I, with my Wife and Child, and Robert Barrow, were order'd to go into it, (the Cannoo was but just wide enough for us to sit down in) and over we were carried, and being landed, the Man made Signs for us to walk to the Wigwams, which we did ; but the young Indians seemed to be frightned and fly from us. We were directed to a Wigwam, which afterwards we understood to be the Cassekey's ; it was about a Man's Height to the Top, and herein was the Cassekey's Wife, and some old Women sitting on a Cabbin made of Sticks, about a Foot high, cover'd with a Mat ; and they made Signs for us to sit down on the Ground, which we did. The Cassekey's Wife having a young Child sucking at her Breast, gave it to another Woman, and would have my Child, which my Wife was very loth to suffer, yet she would not be denied, but took our Child and suckled it at her Breast, viewing and feeling it from Top to Toe, and at length returned it to my Wife.

By this Time another parcel of our People were come over, and we sitting down by the Wigwam Side, an Indian brought a Fish boiled on a Palmetto Leat, and set it down amongst us, making Signs for us to eat ; but our Exercise was too great for us to have any Inclination to receive Food: At length length all our People were brought over, and afterwards came the Cassekey, who as soon as he came to his Wigwam, set himself to Work, got some Stakes, and stuck them in a Row joining to his Wigwam, and tied some Sticks, whereon were small Palmettoes tied, and fastned them to the Stakes about three Feet high, and laid two or three Mats, made of Reeds, down for shelter ; which it seems he made for us, to break the Wind off, and ordered us to lie down there ; which we did, as many as the Mats would hold, and the rest lay on the Ground by us. The Cassekey then went into his Wigwam, and seated himself on his Cabbin cross-legged, having a Basket of Palmetto Berries brought him, which he eat very greedily ; after which came some Indians in to him, and talk'd much.

Night being come, and the Moon being up, an Indian, who performed their Ceremonies, stood out, looking full at the Moon, making a hideous Noise, and crying out, acting like a Mad-man for the Space of Half an Hour, all the Indians being silent till he had done ; after which they made a fearful Noise, some like the Barking of a Dog, Wolf, and other strange Sounds ; after this, he got a Log and set himself down, holding the Stick or Log upright on the Ground, and several others got about him, making a hideous Noise, singing to our Amazement ; at length their Women joined the Consort, and made the Noise more terrible, which they continued till Midnight. Towards Morning there were great Dews, and our Fire being expended, we were extream cold,

The 26th of the Seventh Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Morning, the Cassekey looking on us with a mild Aspect, sent his Son with his striking staff to the Inlet, to strike Fish for us, which was performed with great Dexterity; for some of us walked down with him, and tho' we looked very earnestly when he threw his Staff from him, we could not see a Fish at the Time he saw it, and brought it to Shore on the End of his Staff. Sometimes he would run swiftly pursuing a Fish, and seldom mist when he darted at him: In two Hours Time he got as many Fish as would serve twenty Men. There were others also fishing at the same Time, so that Fish was plenty; but the Sense of our Condition stayed our hungry Stomachs, for some amongst us thought, they would feed us to feed themselves.

The Cassekey went this Morning towards our Vessel, but in his Absence the other Indians looked very untowardly upon us, which created a Jealousy of their Cruelty yet to come.

In the Afternoon we saw a great Fire nigh the Place of our Vessel, and we concluded that our Vessel and our Boat were burnt, whereupon

whereupon we were almost confirmed, that they designed to destroy us ; but about sun-setting the Cassekey came Home, and we speaking to him, he answer'd us, and seem'd very affable, which we liked well. Night drawing on, and the Wind shifting Northward, we removed our Shelter, and added the Mats to it to break the Wind off, which blowed cold, and laid ourselves on the Sand. About an Hour within Night came a parcel of Indians from the Southward, being arm'd with Bows and Arrows, and coming near our Tent, some of us espy'd them, whereupon they squatted down : This seemed a fresh Motive of Danger, and we awakened those of us who were fallen asleep, and bid them prepare, for Things seem'd dangerous, we supposing they were come to forward our destruction, or to carry us to the Southward ; they sat thus a considerable Time, but at length they distributed themselves to the Wigwams. Thus would Danger often appear to us, and almost swallow us up ; but at times we were set over it, having a secret hope that God would work our Deliverance, being preserved us from so many Perils.

Some Time before Night, Robert Barrow was exhorting us to be patient, and in a godly manner he expounded that Text of Scripture, because thou hast kept the Word of my Patience, &c. Rev. iii. 10. After which, he ended with most fervent Prayer, desiring of the Lord,

That

That whereas he had suffered us to be cast amongst a barbarous and heathenish People, if that it was his blessed Will, he would preserve and deliver us from amongst them, that our Names might not be buried in Oblivion, and that he might lay his Body amongst faithful Friends. And at the Close of his Prayer he seem'd to have an Assurance, that his Petition would be granted: In all which, some of us were livingly refreshed and strengthened.

The 27th of the Seventh Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Morning we again used our Endeavours with the Cassekey, that we might go to the Northward for Augustine; but his Answer was, We should be all kill'd: At length we prevailed, and he said, On the Morrow we should go. Hereupon he took three Negro Men (one of Joseph Kirle's, and two of mine) and with a Cannoo went up the Sound.

This Day the Indians were busy with what they had taken out of our Vessel, and would have imployed all of us to do, some one Thing, some another for them; but we not knowing the Consequence, endeavoured to shun it, and would deny their Demands: But some of our Men answered their Desires in making and sewing some Cloth together, stringing our Beds, mending the Locks of the Chests, &c. Whatever they thought was amiss they would be putting upon us to mend, till

ll we wholly refused; at which Time I heard a Saying that came from one of the chief Indians, thus, [English Son of a Bitch] which Words startled me; for I did believe they had some of our Nation in their Possession, of whom they had heard such an Expression: I passed away from the Wigwam with much Trouble.

This Day, being the first of the Week, and we having a large Bible, and a Book of Robert Barclay's, some one or other was often reading in them; but being most of us sat together, Robert Barrow desired our People to wait upon the Lord; in which Time Robert had a Word in Season to us, and afterwards went to Prayer, the Indians standing about us, when some of the younger Sort would be knocking, but not to our Disturbance; the older Sort stood very modestly the whole time: After Prayer was ended, they all withdrew quietly; but some of them (especially the Cassekey's eldest Son) would take great Delight in our Reading, and would take the Bible, or the other Book, and give it to me or other of us to read; the Sound of which pleased them, for they would sit quietly, and very attentively to hear us.

The Cassekey having been gone the most Part of the Day, with three Negroes in our Boat, at last came over the Bar into the Inlet, and we rejoiced to see our Boat again, for we thought thought she had been burnt. Our Negroes told us, They went up the Sound with the Cassekey, and landed near the Place where our Tent had been: His chief Business was to remove the Money from one Place to another, and bury it. This old Man would trust our People, but not his own. After that was done, they went to the Place where our Vessel was burnt: They launched our Boat in which the old Cassekey put his Chests wherein was our Linen, and other of our Trade. Also they got a small Rundlet, which they filled with Wine out of a Quarter Cask that was left, and brought Sugar out of the Wreck, which was not consumed by the Fire. By this Time came up the Cassekey and he told us, On the Morrow we should go with our Boat; which was cheerful News to us: And some Indians having been out, and brought Home some Oysters, the Cassekey gave us some, bidding us take what we had a mind to. A little before Night the Cassekey opened his Chest and Boxes, and his Wife came and took what was in them from him, but he seem'd very generous to my Wife and Child, and gave her several Things which were useful to her and the Child.

Our Boat being very leaky, we got her into a Creek to sink her, that the Water might swell her.

The 28th of the Seventh Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Morning we waited an Opportunity to get Leave to depart, which was granted us : Whereupon we asked for such Things as they did not make use of, viz. a great Glass, wherein was five or six Pounds of Butter, some Sugar, the Rundlet of Wine, and some Balls of Chocolate ; all which was granted us, also a Bowl to heave Water out of the Boat ; but the Cassekey would have a Negro Boy of mine, named Cæsar, to which I could not tell what to say, but he was resolved on it. We got down to the Water-side, and set all our People over that were to travel ; and Joseph Kirle, Robert Barrow, I, my Wife and Child, with two of our Mariners, went in the Boat, and rowed along Shore Northwards, but the Cassekey would have had us to have gone with our Boat up the Sound : We supposed the Sound was a great River, and therefore were not willing to take his Advice, having no Knowledge ; but his Counsel was good, as we found afterwards, for the Conveniency of Passage.

The Cassekey and some other Indians went with our People towards our Wreck, we rowing along Shore, and our Boat very leaky, so that one Person had Employ enough to heave out the Water.

Just before we left the Indian Town, several Indians were for taking the little Clothes

and Rags we had got ; but we calling out to the Cassekey, he would cause them to let us alone.

Solomon Cresson was mightily in one Indian's Favour, who would hardly stir from his Wigwam, but Solomon must be with him, and go Arm in Arm ; which Indian, amongst his Plunder, had a Morning Gown, which he put on Solomon, and Solomon had worn it most of the Time we were there ; but when the Time of our Departure came, another Indian unrob'd him, and left him only a Pair of Breeches, and seemed very angry.

It was high Noon when we left our Wreck (she being burn'd down to her Floor-timbers which lay in the Sand) and set forward, some in the Boat, the rest travelling on Shore ; and a little before Sun set our People came up with abundance of small Fish that had been forced on Shore, as we may suppose, by the Storm that we had met with, (they lying far from the Water, being much tainted) covering the Shore for nigh a Mile in Length, of which our People gathered as many as they could carry : About Sun-set we put on Shore to refresh ourselves, and take a small Respite also to take my Kinsman Benjamin Allen into our Boat, for this Afternoon, in his Travel he was taken with a Fever and Ague, and we had much Trouble to get him along, he having been sick nigh unto Death (being first taken

 all about a Week before we were cast away.

One of my Negroes had saved a Tinder-box and Flint, and we had reserved two Knives, by which Means we got a Fire, tho' with much Difficulty, for our Tinder was bad, and all the Wood Salt-water soaked; which being accomplished, we broiled our Fish, feeding heartily on some of them, and the rest we kept, not knowing when we should be thus furnished again; for which, some of us were truly thankful to the God of our Mercies.

Having a large Fire, many of us got under the Lee of it, and others buried themselves in the Sand, in hopes to get a little Sleep, that we might be somewhat refreshed, and thereby be the better enabled, some to travel, and some to row, the remaining Part of the Night; but the Sand-flies and Muskettoes were so extream thick, it was impossible: The Moon shining, we launched our Boat, and I, my Wife and Child, the Master, Robert Barrow, my Kingsman Allen, Solomon Cresson, Joseph Buckley, and the Master's Negro, went in her, the rest travelling along shore: About Midnight, or a little after, our People came by an Indian Town, and the Indians came out in a great Number, but offered no Violence, more than endeavouring to take from them what little they had; but they making some small Resistance, the Indians were put by their Purpose : They were very desirous to have us come on shore, and would hale us, but our People would have us keep off : We were got among a parcel of Breakers, and so had much ado to get out to Sea.

The 29th of the Seventh Month, being the Third Day of the Week.

This Morning about Sun-rising we stood in for the Land, and looked out for our People, but could not see them, therefore we lay by for the Space of two Hours, and at length we saw them coming along, with a great many Indians with them. When they came a-breast with us, the Indians waited us on Shore, but we refused, perceiving they were wickedly bent ; they would be ever and anon snatching one Thing or other, at which Time our People would point to us in the Boat ; but perceiving they could not get us on Shore, in some few Hours they left them.

This Day about Noon, Joseph Kirle having his Quadrant and Calender, took an Observation, being in the Latitude of 27 Deg. 45 Min. About one o' Clock we saw two Indians with Bows and Arrows, running to meet our People, who, when they saw them, at first they made a halt, and afterwards retreated, at which the Indians let fly an Arrow, which narrowly escaped one of them, whereupon they stopped ; the Indians looked strangely on them, but our People set forwards, and the Indians with them, till they came to the Indian Town: We saw our People go into the Wigwams, but they staid very short Time, for the Indians were for taking those Pieces of Canvas from them which they had. They got some Water and set forward again, the two Indians still following them. About this Time we saw a Sail to the Eastward, and supposing it at first to be a Brigantine, agreed to follow her; but in a small Time we made it to be a Cannoe or Boat with two Masts and Sails; she stood on for the Shore, but as soon as they espy'd us, she bore away; and when she saw we made not after her, she stood ashore again for the Indian Town. Hereupon a Jealousy got amongst us, that she might go on Shore, and get strong with Men, and then come after us; whereupon we rowed very hard, and kept an Offing for some Hours; but finding they came not out, we stood towards the Shore again.

This Day was extream hot, and we had no Water since we left the Indian Town to the Southward of our Wreck, called by the Name of Hoe-Bay, therefore we were desirous to get on Shore, but when we endeavoured it we could not, for the Sea swell'd very much, and came rowling from the Eastward, so that it run very hollow, and broke almost a Mile from the Shore; our Master said, It was impossible to get on Shore alive; but I being under some Exercise, was desirous to be on Shore, and thereupon did express myself to the rest of our People, but they started the Danger: All which I was as sensible of as they; yet I could not rest, but insisted upon going ashore; the Master and Men said, We should not save our Lives: But I gained so that they attempted, and were got within half a Mile of the Shore, when the Seas came on us so large and hollow, that one Sea had like to have over-whelmed us, but we just got a-top of it before it broke: There was then no perswading them to go further, therefore we stood off, and designed to keep off all Night; and our People being very weary, and the Sun setting, we divided, one Half to get some Sleep, the other to watch, and keep the Boat's Head to the Sea. The Weather looked as though it would be bad, and the Sea increased, whereupon I began a-fresh to perswade them to go on Shore; all were very desirous, but thought it impossible: At length we resolved to venture, and so committing ourselves to the Protection of the Almighty God, we stood in for the Shore, and made Signs to our People, that we designed it. And it pleased God to order it so, that we went on Shore, as though there had been a Lane made through the Breakers, and were carried to the Top of the Bank, where we got aged Robert Barrow, my Wife and and Child, out of the Boat, before ever a Sea came to fill us, which did as soon as they were got out ; but we got our Boat up from the Wash of the Sea.

The two Indians who followed us, were for taking off our Clothes, (which would not cover our Bodies) but we not being willing to yield, they would snatch a Piece from one, and a Bit from another, and run away with that, and then come again and do the like. These two Indians took away what was given to my Wife and Child, which we knew not how to help, but we exercised Patience.

We enquired how far it was to St. a Lucea, one of them speaking a little Spanish) and by Signs we understood it was not far. They then made Signs, that when we came there, we should be put to most cruel Death, but we hoped otherwise.

At this Place, within the Land, and over the Sound, our People said, before it was dark they saw two or three Houses which look'd white, as though they were plaistered with Lime, which put us in Hopes that there were Spaniards there ; so we set forwards, as the Indians directed, for St. a Lucea, and they made Signs that we should come to an Inlet of the Sea, and on the other Side was St. a Lucea. We travelled about four Miles, and came to the Inlet, but saw no Settlement on the other Side, so we concluded to lie there all Night. We saw the Tract of a large Bear, Bear, and other wild Beasts, whereupon we set to work to get Wood, and then a Fire. Abundance of Muskettoes and Sand-flies hindered our Rest ; to remedy which, we digged Holes in the Sand, got some Grass, and laid it therein to lie upon, in order to cover ourselves from the Flies, which most of us did ; but it being extream cold, and Firing scarce, we had little Comfort.

About Midnight we sent our People to see if they could get off our Boat, and bring it into the Inlet, that we might get over to the other Side : They went and launched her, but the Sea was so rough, that there was no Possibility of getting her off, for she was soon filled and put to swim, and they, Boat and all, were driven on Shore again.

Whilst our People were gone for our Boat, we espied some Indians in a Cannoo, with their Torch, a fishing ; we sent for Solomon, (who was gone to launch the Boat) expecting they would come, seeing Fires, and we should not tell what to say to them, but they did not. Here we lay watching, for no Rest could be taken.

The 30th of the Seventh Month, being the Fourth Day of the Week..

This Morning, by Break of Day, we saw a small Cannoo from the other Side put off Shore, with two Indians in her, going up the River (or Sound) a fishing : We hailed them in Spanish, and as soon as they heard and saw they made to the Shore with all Speed, and away to their Town they run. We perceiving they were shy of us, began to doubt their Amity, which we had so much depended on, whereupon we counselled our people how to deport themselves, especially the Negroes. About Sun-rising we saw the Indians coming, running in a very great number, with their Bows and Arrows, to the Inlet, where, having five or six Cannoos, they got into them, as many as those Cannoos could hold, and others took the Water, and came over to us, where they came in the greatest Rage that possibly a barbarous People could. Solomon began to speak Spanish to them, but they answered not till they came to Shore, some Distance from us, and then turning running upon us, they cried out Nickaleer, Nickaleer? We all sat still, expecting Death, and that in a most barbarous Manner, so that they that did speak unto them could not be heard; but they rushed violently on us, pulling and tearing those few Clothes we had; they that had Breeches, had so many about them, that they hardly touched the Ground, they were shaken out of them; they tore from my Wife, and espying her Hair-lace, they were going to cut the Hair away to get it, but like greedy Dogs, another snatch'd it off. As for our poor young Child, they snatch'd from it what little it had, as though they would have shaken and torn i Limb from Limb.

After they had taken all from us but our Lives, they began to talk one to another vehemently foaming at the Mouth, like wild Boars, and taking their Bows and Arrows with other Weapons, cried out Nickaleer Nickaleer ? Solomon spoke in Spanish to them and said, We are Spaniards ; but they would not hear him, and continued crying out Nickaleer, Nickaleer ? Withal drawing their Arrows to the Head ; but suddenly we perceived them to look about and listen, and then they desisted from prosecuting their bloody Design, and one of them took a Pair of Breeches, and gave them to my Wife. We brought our great Bible, and a large Book of Robert Barclay's, to this Place ; and being all stript as naked as we were born, and endeavouring to hide our Nakedness, the Canibals took the Books, and tearing out the Leaves, would give each of us a Leaf to cover us, which we took from them ; at which Time they would deride and smite us, and instantly another of them would snatch away what the other gave us, smiting and deriding us withal.

Robert Barrow, with myself, Wife and Child, were ordered to go into a Cannoo, to be carried to the other Side of the Inlet, being a Furlong over, four Indians being in the Cannoo to paddle ; when we came to the oth

her in a Cannoo's Length or two the Sn<sup>ow</sup> Number of Indians, with their ow<sup>and</sup> Arrows, came running into the water, some to their Knees, some deeper, having their Bows and Arrows drawn up, saying out, Nickaleer, Nickaleer? which they continued without ceasing. The Indians that brought us over leap'd out of the Cannoo, and swam ashore, fearing they should be shot;
but in this Juncture, it pleased God to tender the Hearts of some of them towards us, especially the Cassekey's Wife, and some of the chiefest amongst them, who were made Instruments to intercede for us, and stop the Rage of the Multitude, who seem'd not to be satisfied without our Blood. The Cassekey then order'd some to swim and fetch the Cannoo ashore; which being done, his Wife came in a compassionate Manner and took my Wife out of the Cannoo, ordering her to follow her, which she did some Distance from the left Side, and stood till all our People were brought over, which in a little Time was done: But the Rage of some was still great, thirsting to shed our Blood, and a mighty Strife there was amongst them; some would kill us; others would prevent it; and thus one Indian was striving with another.

All being got over, we were to walk along the Sea-shore to their Town, and in this Passage we most of us felt the Rage of some of them,

them, either by striking divers Arrows were shot; but for preserving us, would watch <sup>Side</sup> those <sup>at we</sup> were for destroying, and when some of the would go to shoot, others of them would catch hold of their Bows or Arm. It was order'd, that not one of us was touch'd with their Arrows, but several of us were knock'd down, and some tumbled into the Sea; we dared not help one another, but Help we had by some of them, being made instrumental succour us. My Wife received several Blows and an Indian came and took hold of her Hair and was going either to cut her Throat, or something like it, having his Knife nigh her Throat, but I looked at him, making a Sign that he should not, so he desisted; at which Time another Indian came, with a Handful of Sea-sand, and filled our poor Child's Mouth.

By this Time the Cassekey's Wife came to my Wife, seeing her oppressed, and pulled the Sand out of our Child's Mouth, and kept by my Wife till we got to the Cassekey's House which was about forty Feet long, and twenty five Feet wide, cover'd with Palmetto Leaves both Top and Sides. There was a Range of Cabbins, or a Barbecue, on one Side and two Ends; at the entering on one Side of the House, a Passage was made of Benches on each Side, leading to the Cabbins; on these Benches sat the chief Indians, and at the upper End of the Cabin was the Cassekey seated. A kind of Debate was held amongst them for an Hour's Time ; after which, Solomon and some others were called to the Cassekey, and were seated on the Cabbin, where the Cassekey talked to Solomon in the Spanish Language, but could not hold a Discourse. In a little Time some raw Deer-skins were brought in, and given to my Wife and Negro-Woman ; and to us Men, such as the Indians wear, being a Piece of Plaitwork of Straws, wrought of divers Colours, and of a triangular Figure, with a Belt of four Fingers broad of the same, wrought together, which goeth about the Waist ; and the Angle of the other having Thing to it, coming between the Legs, and Strings to the End of the Belt, all three meeting together, are fastened behind with a Horse-tail, or a Bunch of Silk-grass, exactly resembling it, of a flaxen Colour ; this being all the Apparel or Covering that the Men wear, and thus they clothed us.

A Place was appointed for us on the Floor of the House, where we were ordered to lie down, but the Place was extream nasty; for all the Stones of the Berries which they eat, and all the Nastiness that was made amongst them, lay on their Floor, so that the Place swarm'd with abundance of many sorts of creeping Things, as a large black hairy Spider, which hath two Claws like a Crab, Scorpions, and a numberless Number of small Buggs. On these Mats we lay, with these Vermin crawling over our naked Bodies ; to brush them off, was like driving of Muskettoes from one, where they are extream thick.

The Indians were seated as aforesaid, the Cassekey at the upper End of them, and the Range of Cabbins was fill'd with Men, Women and Children, beholding us : At length we heard a Woman or two cry, according to their Manner, and that very sorrowfully ; one of which I took to be the Cassekey's Wife, which occasioned some of us to think, that something extraordinary was to be done to us ; we also heard a strange sort of a Noise, which was not like the Noise made by a Man, but we could not understand what, nor where it was, for sometimes it sounded to be in one Part of the House, sometimes in another, to which we had an Ear : And indeed our Ears and Eyes could perceive or hear nothing but what was strange and dismal, and Death seem'd to surround us ; but Time discovered this Noise to us : The Occasion of it was thus :

In one Part of this House, where the Fire was kept, was an Indian Man, having a Pot on the Fire, wherein he was making a Drink of the Leaves of a Shrub, (which we understood afterwards by the Spaniard, is called Casseena) boiling the said Leaves, after they had parched them in a Pot ; then with a Gourd, having a long Neck, and at the Top of it a small Hole, which the Top of ones Finger could cover, and at the Side of it a round Hole of two Inches Diameter ; they take the Liquor out of the Pot, and put it into a deep round Bowl, which being almost filled, containeth nigh three Gallons ; with this Gourd they brew the Liquor, and make it froth very much ; it looketh of a deep brown Colour. In the brewing of this Liquor was this Noise made, which we thought strange ; for the pressing of the Gourd gently down into the Liquor, and the Air which it contained, being forced out of the little Hole at the Top, occasioned a Sound, and according to the Time and Motion given, would be various. This Drink when made and cool to sup, was in a Shell first carried to the Cassekey, who threw Part of it on the Ground, and the rest he drank up, and then would make a loud Hem ; and afterwards the Cup passed to the rest of the Cassekey's Associates, as aforesaid ; but no other Man, Woman or Child must touch or taste of this Sort of Drink ; of which they sat sipping, chattering, and smoaking Tobacco, or some other Herb instead thereof, for the most Part of the Day.

About Noon some Fish were brought to us on small Palmetto Leaves, being boiled with Scales, Heads and Gills, and nothing taken from them but the Guts ; but our Troubles and Exercifes were fuch, that we cared not for Food.

In the Evening, we being laid on the Place aforefaid, the Indians made a Drum of a Skin, covering therewith the deep Bowl in which they brewed their Drink, beating thereon with a Stick, and having a couple of Rattles made of a fmall Gourd, put on a Stick with fmall Stones in it, fhaking it; they began to fet up a moft hideous Howling, very irkfome to us, and fome Time after came many of their young Women, fome finging, fome dancing: This was continued till Midnight, after which they went to fleep.

The 1st of the Eighth Month, called October, being the Fifth Day of the Week.

This Day the Caffekey, looking on us pleafantly, made Presents to fome of us, efpecially to my Wife; he gave her a Parcel of Shell-fifh, which are known by the Name of Glamms, one or two he roasted, and gave her, fhewing that fhe muft ferve the reft fo, and eat them. The Indian Women would take our Child and fuckle it, for its Mother's Milk was almoft gone, that it could not get a Meal: And our Child, which had been at Death's Door, from the Time of its Birth, until we were caft away, began now to be cheerful, and have an Appetite to Food; it had no Covering but a fmall Piece of raw Deer-fkin, Deer-skin, not a Shred of Linen or Woollen to put on it.

About the tenth Hour we observed the Indians to be on a sudden Motion, and most of the principal of them betook themselves to their Houses; the Cassekey went to dressing his Head, and painting himself, and so did all the rest: When they had done, they came into the Cassekey's House, and seated themselves in Order. In a small Time after came an Indian with some small Attendance into the House, making a ceremonious Motion, and seated himself by the Cassekey, and the Persons that came with him seated themselves amongst the others: After some small Pause, the Cassekey began a Discourse which held him nigh an Hour, after which, the strange Indian and his Companions went forth to the Water-side to their Cannoo, lying in the Sound, and return'd presently with such Presents as they had brought, delivering them to the Cassekey, and those sitting by giving an Applause. The Presents were some few Bunches of the Herb they made their Drink of, and another Herb which they use instead of Tobacco, and some plaited Balls stuffed with Moss, to lay their Heads on instead of Pillows: The Ceremony being ended, they all seated themselves again, and went to drinking Casseena, smoaking and talking during the Strangers Stay.

About Noon some Fish were brought to us, and our Hunger was grown stronger upon us, but the Quantity given was not much more than each a Mouthful, which we eat; the Cassekey ordered the Master Joseph Kirle, Solomon Cresson, my Wife and me, to sit upon their Cabbin to eat our Fish, and they gave us some of their Berries to eat; we tasted them, but not one amongst us could suffer them to stay in our Mouths, for we could compare the Taste of them to nothing else but rotten Cheese steep'd in Tobacco Juice. Some Time after we had eaten, the Indians asked us, If we were Spaniards? Solomon answered them, Yes. Then some of them would point to those whose Hair was black, or of a deep brown, and say such a one was a Spaniard of the Havanna, and such of Augustine; but those whose Hair was of a light Colour, they were doubtful of; some would say they were no Spaniards.

About the third Hour in the Afternoon the Strangers went away, and some small Time after, they having satisfied themselves that most of us were Spaniards, told us, That we should be sent for to the next Town; and also said, that there was a Nickaleer off, which we understood [Englishmen of Bristol] to the Number of six Men and a Woman, and that they were to be put to Death before we should get thither. We were silent, although much concerned to hear that Report; they also told us, that a Messenger would come for us, to direct us to the next Town, and from thence bence to Augustine. Night coming on, they betook themselves to their accustomed Singing and Dancing.

About the 10th or 12th Hour in the Night, before the Singing and Dancing was ended, came in a Stranger armed with Bow and Arrows ; the Cassekey and his Companions entertained him with Half an Hour's Discourse, which being ended, we were on a sudden ordered to get up, and hurried away with this Stranger, they not giving us Time to see if we were altogether ; and a Troop of young Indian Men and Boys followed us for about four Miles ; all which Way they pelted us with Stones : At length they all left us, except two and our Guide ; but we missed Solomon Cresson, and Joseph Kirle's Boy, and Negro Ben, which was no small Trouble to us.

We had not travelled above five Miles, before our Guide caused us to stop, and at some small Distance there was an Indian Town, which I supposed our Guide belonged to, for Indians came from thence with Fire and Water for him, and with Palmetto Leaves they made a Blast of Fire ; here we staid nigh two Hours : The Flies were very thick, and the Night very cold, so that our naked Bodies were not able to endure it, but with Grief. At length we left this Place, but the whole Night following we were troubled with two young Indians, who at Times would be abusing abusing one or other of us, singling them out and asking if they were not Nickaleer, or English? If they said Nay, then they would hit them a Blow or more with a Truncheon which they had, and said, they were. We travelled all Night without stopping, from the aforesaid Place.

The 2d of the Eighth Month, being the Sixth Day of the Week.

After Sun-rising we came up with the Wreck of the Vessel that we heard was cast away, and she was staved all to pieces, for her Keelson was driven on Shore. We saw Sugar - Hogsheads, Ginger and Logwood which gave us to suppose that it was one of our Fleet, and we thought it to be either Burrough's or Smith's, belonging to Bristol. A Mile or more from hence we came to an Inlet, and our Guide told us we must swim over, except my Wife and Robert Barrow; but we signified, that we could not: He then carried Robert Barrow, Joseph Kirle, me, my Wife and Child over first, and at length the whole Company, for it was a great Way over. By that Time we were all got over the Day was hot, and my Wife quite tired and faint, as also Robert Barrow and Joseph Kirle, whose Leg was grown so painful that it overcame him. We got under a Grape-bush for Shelter from the Sun, and I sent one of my Negroes to seek for Water for or them, but there was none to be had ; he got some Sea-side Grapes, which, with resting, refreshed the Weak and Lame.

Our Guide was for forcing us forward, so we travelled about four or five Miles further, and met with the Cassekey of the Town, who was Commander of the Northern Part of his Coast : He was an ancient Man, his beard and Hair grey, and he enquired for the Captain ; so our People pointed to Joseph Girle, whom he went to, and embraced him ; then he asked for our Mate or Pilot. This Man could speak Spanish better than any we had met with yet, but not so well as to discourse, only to ask some Questions, and we had three or four amongst us could make a shift to answer him, for Solomon was kept behind. This old Cassekey seemed to have Compassion on us, and said, That those People who had served us thus, in stripping of us, were Rogues ; but we were his Camerades or Friends.
 Withal he said, In a few Days he would carry us to Augustine ; and thereupon he told us of six Englishmen and one Woman being at his Town. We enquired, if he intended them for Augustine ? He shook his Head, and pointed to the Southward, saying, Nickaleer
no Cameradc, (Englishmen were not his Friends), which Words were unpleasant to us.

These People kept us Company till we came within a Mile or two of their Town, and then they left us, and going faster got in

before us. Their Town stood about Half Mile from the Sea-shore, within the Land of the Sound, being surrounded with a Swamp in which grew white Mangrove Trees, which hid the Town from the Sea. We were directed to the Cassekey's House, which was large and filled with Indians, and then ordered to sit down. The old Cassekey fetched some Water, and washed Robert Barrow's Feet and my Wife's; after which he got some Canvas and Crocus Ginger-bags, which they had got out of the Vessel that was cast on Shore, which were distributed amongst us; Joseph Kirle had a Coat given him, which they had taken from the People of the other Vessel, but it was rent down the Back; my Wife had two Pieces of Sail-canvas given her, and I, with others, had a Crocus Ginger-bag; they also gave a Piece of an old Linen Shirt, in Bigness of a small Handkerchief, to cover our Child, and these were all our Cloathing. Robert Barrow and my Wife were quite spent with travelling Bare-foot on the hot Sand, having bruised their Feet against Stumps, Stones, and Prickles, especially Robert Barrow, whose Feet had Holes in them, that one might have put the Top of one's Thumb in; but we were directed to lie down on a Cabbin.

The other Vessel's Company that was cast away, were John Smith, Master of the Nantwich, a Barque belonging to Bristol, which came out of Jamaica with us, with five Men and

and one Woman, viz. Andrew Murray Merchant, Andrew Barnes Mate, Hugh Allen, John Osler, John Shears and Cornelius Toker five Boys, with a Woman Passenger named Penelope. We took an Opportunity to discourse with them, and they told us, they were cast away the same Night we were, and their Vessel being forced by the Storm (they not being able for two Days before to carry any Sail) on Shore, they got into their Boat, and so on Shore, and in a small Time was a great Part of their Wreck driven on Shore, amongst which was a Barrel or more of Water, some Barrels of Beef or Pork, with their chests, and many other Things which they got.

On the Morrow following, they designed to have travelled to the Northward; and Andrew Barnes their Mate having been a long time afflicted with a Flux, which had wasted his Body to Skin and Bone, so that he was not able to help himself, they left behind, and travelled a Mile or more, when they came to an Inlet which they could not pass; whereupon they returned back again to take their Boat, but at their Return, before they could get away with their Boat, they espied the Indians coming on them, who soon got to them, and asked in Spanish, What Nation they were? Spaniards, English, or French? And the Indians made Signs to give them their Clothing, which they readily did. But still they enquired, enquired, Of what Nation? At first they answered Spaniards; but the Natives looked so furiously, that they soon answered them Englishmen; thereupon every one had in Nickaleer, Nickaleer: And then they very eagerly stripp'd them of all they had on them; after which, they drove them away to the Northward to their own Town; but Andrew Barnes, not being able to stand or go, was left behind, after they had stripp'd him on the Land naked, when they were driven away.

Before they got to the Town, the Indian Cassekey gave them some Clothing, and no Violence was offered to their Persons, and they had Plenty of Fish and Berries to the Time of our coming: John Smith and Andrew Murray had their Lodging in the Cassekey's House, and the Woman named Penelope; the rest of Smith's People lodged in other Indian Houses: On our coming the old Cassekey told them, They must turn out, and make Room for the Spaniards; but Smith and Murray would not go, and the Indians did not force them.

In some Time after we had been in the House, came in Indian Women, loaded with Baskets of Berries, mostly of the Palm, some Sea-side Coco Plums, and Sea-side Grapes. Of the two latter we could eat, but of the Palm Berries we could not bear the Taste in our Mouths: We then laid ourselves on the Cabbin, on that Part which was appointed us, and and on the other Part the young Cassekey lay, being parted by a Chest that stood thereon. Before Night there was a Parcel of large Fish, called Drumms, brought in, and the old Cassekey told Joseph Kirle, That those were for the Spaniards, and bid him let some Body dress them; he also ordered us a Pot. They were soon dressed, and we eat them; and Night being come, the old Cassekey enquired after our Losses; which we, as well as we could, gave him to understand, That in our Vessel was a great deal of Cloathing and Money, which the Indians at Hoe-bay had taken from us. He understood so much of the Matter, that he grew covetous, and said, He would go and get some of it from them.

About Midnight came Solomon Cresson in a Canoo with two Indians: The old Cassekey began to examine him concerning our Vessel, Goods and Money, or Plate; of which Solomon rendered a fuller Account to him than we could; which caused him to resolve on the Morrow to provide Men and Boats, and to go down the Sound to Hoe-bay, to have Part from them. He would have had Solomon to have gone with him, but Solomon refused.

We enquired of Solomon concerning his stay, and of the Negro Ben, and Joseph Kirle's Boy: He said, that he was stayed by Force, but the Negro and the Boy were asleep in another House, when we were driven away. They had a Design in staying of Solomon, which he could not rightly understand, but supposed, that they doubted that we were all Spaniards ; for the Indians of St. a Luce would say to Solomon, that he was a Spaniard and some others, but the most of us were no Spaniards, and that we had stolen Solomon but Solomon denied it.

The 3d of the Eighth Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Morning the old Cassekey, with two Cannoes and ten Indians with him, went from hence for Hoe-bay, and he promised, that as soon as he returned, he would carry us for Augustine, which he supposed would be in six Days, if he had good Weather. But this Day the Wind was got North-East, and it look'd as though the Weather would be stormy ; the Wind increased, and towards Evening the Water in the Sound did rise, so that it began to cover the Land, and came into the Houses ; but we had little or no Rain till Night, when the Wind increased, and Rain also.

The 4th of the Eighth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Morning the Wind was violent with Rain ; the King's House was Knee deep with Water, and like to continue rising ; I removed with my Wife, Child, Robert Barrow and Benjamin Allen, to an Indian House that stood on on a Hill of Oyſter-shells, and in this Houſe we remained the whole Day. The Wind continued at North-Eaſt very violent, and by reaſon of much Rain, the Water aroſe every Hour, and the Indians began to put their dry Berries into their Cannoes, and to ſeek which Way to ſecure them. Several Indians betook themſelves to their Boats, and carried what they had to ſome high Land a conſiderable Diſtance, where a Place was made for their Caffekey, or King; but before Day the Houſe we were in was a float, and the Indians were for turning us out, bidding us take an old Cannoo that had a Hole in the Side of her, almoſt at the Bottom, big enough for a Man to put his Hand through, ſo that ſhe was full of Water; in this Cannoo they would have had us ſhifted for ourſelves, but we were not willing to go; the Indians made Signs for us to be gone divers Times, and at length they grew angry, and took my Kinsman Allen into the Cannoo, and carried him away; in a little Time after they returned with the Cannoo, and bid me and Robert Barrow be gone. By this Time Day appeared, but the Wind and Rain continued ſtill violent. I then ſaw an Houſe on another Oyſter-hill, that the Water was not got over yet, to which I went, and aſked, by Signs, If I might be there? The Indians ſeemed willing; ſo thither I got my Wiſe, Child, and Robert Barrow, and remained there.

All this Day the Wind was violent, raining much, and the Flood continued ; we imagine that the Sea was broke in upon the Land, and that we should be drowned. The Houses were almost blown to pieces, and the Indians were often at tying and mending them. The chief Man of the House wherein I was, caused his Wife to suckle our Child, for it was almost famished, its Mother having no Milk in her Breasts, for we had received no Sustenance since the Storm began ; and fresh Water was not to be had, the Land being covered with the Sea. The Indians offered us some of their Berries, which we endeavoured to eat, but could not, the Taste was so irksome, and ready to take our Breath from us when we tried to eat them ; but we expected, that the Flood continued longer, we should not need for Water ; yet, nevertheless, we enjoying Health and Strength, and Hunger growing violent, we would be tasting the Berries though we could reap no Satisfaction.

The 5th of the Eighth Month, being the second Day of the Week.

This Morning the Flood began to come up into our House also, and the Indians seemed much concerned ; the Storm of Wind and Rain held till about Mid-day, at which Time the Wind shifted Southward with the Rain, but in some few Hours the Flood began to abate.

The 7th of the Eighth Month, being the Fourth Day of the Week.

By this Day Noon the Water fell many Feet, and I went out to see our People whom I left in the King's House, and I found them where I left them. All the Indians had left the House, and our People remained on the Cabbin, which was about four Feet from the Floor. The Flood had risen within two or three Inches of the Top of the Cabbin, and they said, They expected to die there. We began to express our Hunger and Thirst to each other, but there was no Help as yet for either; we went to the Springs, but they were all salt as the Sea, and we would be striving with the Berries, but they were so offensive to us, that we could reap no Satisfaction from them. We went then a begging at Times to the Indian Women to suckle our Child, which they would seldom deny.

The 8th of the Eighth Month, being the Fifth Day of the Week.

This Day we got some Water to drink, but it was very brackish, and at best not very good.

The 9th of the Eighth Month, being the Sixth Day of the Week.

This Day the young Cassekey returned to his House, with his Chetts and other Things.

The 10th of the Eighth Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Day we got a Meal of Fish, the greatest Plenty we had received since we were there; but we longed for the old Cassekey's Return, and feared that the bad Weather would lengthen the Time.

The 11th of the Eighth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Morning early came a Messenger, giving an Account, that the old Cassekey was within some few Leagues of the Town, and that we might expect him this Forenoon: Within that Time he came in Sight, and we all drew down to the Water-side to receive him; we perceived he came in State, having his two Cannoos lash'd together, with Poles athwart from the one to the other, making a Platform, which being covered with a Mat, on it stood a Chest, which was belonging to us, and my Negro Boy Cæsar (which the Cassekey of Hoe-bay took from me) whom he had got from the Indians; upon this Chest he sat cross legged, being newly painted red, and his Men with Poles, setting the Cannoos along to the Shore: On seeing us, he cried [Wough] and look'd very sternly at us.

He was received by his People with great Homage, holding out his Hands (as their Custom is) to be kissed, having his Chest carried before him to his House whither he went, went, and the House was filled with Indians, The old Cassekey began, and held a Discourse for some Hours, giving an Account, as we suppose, what he heard and saw; in which Discourse he would often mention Nickaleer; which caused us to fear, that all Things were not well. After he had told his Story, and some of the elder Indians had exprest their Sentiments thereof, they drank Casseena, and smoaked till Evening: The House then being clear, the old Cassekey looked very unpleasantly, shewing to us several Things which he had got, as, a Hatchet, a Knife, the Chest, and many other Things; asking us, If they were not ours? Which we owned: Whereupon he would say, They were Nickaleer (or English) We signified, that we had them of the English, but our Money was Spanish.

Towards the Evening, Joseph Kirle, myself and Solomon, got an Opportunity to discourse with him; we began to urge his Promise of carrying us for Augustine. At first, he started his Hardships and Labour to Hoe-day and back, and that he must have Time to rest before he could go out again; then he told us, The Way was long, and would be tedious, and that at several Places we must draw the Cannoos over Land for a great Distance; he also mentioned how many Towns there were between this and Augustine, in Number Ten. But nigh the Conclusion, he setting an angry Countenance upon us, told us, us, That at Hoe-bay he was informed, that we should say, we were all Englishmen : After he had said this in an angry Manner, he turn'd from us and went away.

This laid all our Hopes in the Dust, and we soon perceived the Indians grew jealous of us, for they would now be daily asking us if we were not Nickaleer, or English ? And would not seem satisfied with a Denial. Many Days were spent, and the Time drew nigh that we understood the old Cassekey was intended for Augustine ; hereupon we applied ourselves to him, requesting, that if all might not go, he would carry some of us ; but he told us, He would carry but one. This put us on querying, which of us should be that one : The Generality was for me ; but I and Joseph Kirle were for Solomon, because he could speak the Spanish Language well, and no other of us could : And should any other of us have gone, and come amongst those Indians to the Northward, who, we supposed, could speak the Spanish Language well, we should be discovered to be what those People supposed we were, therefore it might overthrow all our Expectations ; but Solomon might pass all those Objections. These Reasons did not satisfy our People, so that some of them grew Cholerick ; of which the old Cassekey took Notice, and told Solomon, that If they made such a Stir, he would not carry one ; if he did, it should be either Solomon, Joseph Kirle, or me. Whereupon we prevailed with him, that Solomon might go, and accordingly made Preparations : The Cassekey appointed the Number of Indians to go with him ; also a Cannoo was sent for, which when it came, we found it to have belonged to the English, by the Make of her. This Cannoo had a great Hole in the Head nigh the Bottom, with many great Rents and Holes in her, but Joseph Kirle and I were required to mend her, which with much ado we accomplished, the Cannoo being much decay'd and rotten where the Rents were.

The 18th of the Eighth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Morning the old Cassekey, with Solomon and six Indians in a Cannoo, set out for Augustine ; the Cassekey carried a small Chest, in which was nigh one Hundred Pieces of Eight, as some of our People supposed, with some other Things that were got from our Vessel. The Weather was likely for Rain, which caused us to fear, should the Weather prove bad, that Solomon would hardly live to get to Augustine, for he had nothing to cover him, except a Pair of Indian Breeches, and a small Piece of Skin that covered his Breast.

We understood by the old Cassekey, that it would be a Month, or next New Moon, before we could expect their Return : All which Time we spent in much Trouble and Hardship.

ship. The Weather began to grow cold, and Provisions very short, that is Palm Berries, Coco Plumbs and Sea Grapes, (which are the three Sorts before expressed) the Time of these Fruits bearing being over, they having no Sort of Fruit till the next Spring.

These People neither sow nor plant any manner of Thing whatsoever, nor care for any Thing but what the barren Sands produce: Fish they have as plenty as they please, but sometimes they would make it scarce to us, so that a Meal in a Week was most commonly our Portion, and three Meals a Rarity.

After the old Cassekey's Departure our Hardships increased, especially my Wife and Child's, for Want of Food of any Sort; my Wife's Milk was gone, and our poor Child was in great Want; the Indians now and then would give it suck, but scarcely to satisfy it, for there was a Woman or two of their own which had young Children, and no Breast to suckle them. Our Extremity was such, that any manner of Thing would go down with us, the Gills and Guts of Fish pick'd off a Dunghill was acceptable, the Scraps the Indians threw away, and the Water they boiled their Fish in, we were thankful for, though never so undecently handled by them. And though my Wife had hardly any Milk for our Child, yet an Indian Woman, who was lately delivered of a Child, and had no Milk in her Breast, would have had her to suckle her Child, which my Wife consented to ; and this was a Means of her and our Child's reaping a Benefit, for the Indians would give her Fish, which Means helped to increase Milk for our Child.

Many were our Exercises, both in Body and Mind, amongst this People. Sometimes they would look upon us as though they had some ill Intent towards the whole of us ; at other Times they would tell us (who were nominally Spaniards) how and in what Manner those of Smith's Company should be put to Death. And thus were we daily exercised in Sorrow and grievous Troubles. Sometimes Doubts would arise amongst ourselves, concerning what would be the End of us, and what Manner of Deaths we should pass through ; and whomsoever these Doubts did appear in, it would be hard for another to help with Counsel : But some there were whose Hope never failed, they trusting in the Lord to work for our Deliverance. One Thing did seem more grievous to me and my Wife, than any other Thing ; which was, that if it should so happen that we should be put to Death, we feared that our Child would be kept alive, and bred up as one of those People : When these Thoughts did arise, it wounded us deep.

It now being the Time of the Moon's entering the first Quarter, the Indians had a ceremonious ceremonious Dance, which they began about eight o' Clock in the Morning : In the first place came in an old Man, and took a Staff about eight Feet long, having a broad Arrow on the Head thereof, and thence half Way painted red and white, like unto a Barber's Pole ; in the Middle of this Staff was fixed a Piece of Wood, shaped like unto a Thigh, Leg and Foot of a Man, and the lower Part thereof was painted black : And this Staff being carried out of the Cassekey's House, was set fast in the Ground, standing upright : This being done, he also brought out a Basket, containing six Rattles, which were taken out thereof, and placed at the Foot of the Staff : Then another old Man came in, and set up an Howling like unto a mighty Dog, but beyond him for Length of Breath, withal making a Proclamation : This being done, and most of them having painted themselves, some red, some black, some with black and red, with their Bellies girt up as tite as well they could girt themselves with Ropes, having their Sheath of Arrows at their Backs, and their Bows in their Hands, being gathered together about the Staff, six of the chiefeft Men in Esteem amongst them, especially one who is their Doctor, and much esteemed, took up the Rattles, and began an hideous Noise, standing round the Staff with their Rattles, and bowing without ceasing to the Staff for about Half an Hour ; whilst these fix were thus employed, all the rest were staring and scratching, pointing upwards and downwards, on this and the other Side, every Way, looking like Men frightened, or more like Furies: Thus they behaved themselves till the fix had done shaking their Rattles. Then they all began a Dance, violently stamping on the Ground for the Space of an Hour or more, without ceasing; in which Time they sweat in a most excessive Manner, so that by the Time the Dance was over, what by their Sweat and the violent stamping of their Feet, the Ground was trodden into Furrows, and by the Morning, the Place where they danced was covered with Maggots: Thus, often repeating the Manner, they continued till about three or four o' Clock in the Afternoon, by which Time many were sick and faint: And then, being gathered into the Cassekey's House, they sat down, having some hot Casseena ready, which they drank plentifully of, and gave greater Quantities thereof to the Sick and Fainty than to others: Then they eat Berries. On these Days they eat not any Food till Night.

The next Day, about the same Time, they began their Dance as the Day before; also the third Day they began their Dance at the usual Time: At which Time came many Indians from other Towns, and fell to dancing, without taking any Notice one of the other.

This third Day they were stricter than the other two Days, for no Woman must look upon them; but if any of their Women went out of their Houses, they went veiled with a Mat.

The 25th of the Eighth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Day was a Day of Plenty to us, for we had as much Fish and Berries as would serve us two Days.

The 26th of the Eighth-Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Day we observed that great Baskets of dried Berries were brought in from divers Towns, and delivered to the King, or young Cassekey, which we supposed to be a Tribute to the King of this Town, who is Chief of all the Towns, from St. a Lucea to the Northward of this Town of Jece.

The 27th of the Eighth Month, being the Third Day of the Week.

This Day there was a Bag of Berries (the Bag made of Grass) given to us, which we eat in two or three Days, and then we fasted as many, before the young Cassekey would give us more.

About this Time, John Smith and Andrew Murray were sharply seized with a Fever and Ague; when the Fit of the Ague was on them, the the Indians would mock and deride them : This we well observed, that these People had no Compassion on their own aged declining People, when they were past their Labour, nor on others of their own, which lay under any declining Condition ; for the Younger is served before the Elder, and the elder People, both Men and Women, are Slaves to the Younger.

In this Place we saw many Tokens of some of our Nation's having fallen into the Hands of these People : As, two English Cannoos, one of Cedar, the other of Cotton-Tree, like those of Jamaica ; several Blocks and Sheevers of Lignum Vitæ ; several Tools and Knives ; and more particularly a Razor, on the Hilt of which was writ the Man's Name, thus, THOMAS FOSTER. Some of these Things looked as tho' they had been several Years amongst them, some but a few ; but we never dared to enquire, for we thought they brought some Things in our View to try us.

Here was a Man in this Town, who, some Years before had been taken off by some of our English Sloops, for a Diver on a Wreck to the Eastward of Cuba, where he was for some Time ; but the Vessel putting into Cuba for Water, this Indian swam on Shore and got to the Havanna, from thence to Augustine, and so to his native Town. The greatest Charge this Man had against the English, was for taking him away ; not but that he was well used amongst them : This Indian would often call Josepb Kirle, Solomon Cresson, and some of us, into his House, seeming very cheerful, and asking, If they would eat ? withal asking the Names of the Berries, expecting we would call them after the English Manner [Plumbs] but we perceiving his Drift, and having learned the Name of them, as the Spaniards call them, [Uvaes] he would then tell us, that the English called them [Plumbs.] Such Sort of Discourse we had at Times, for he would be striving to trap us, viz. Josepb, Solomon and me, in Words ; but he never had an Advantage, for when Solomon was gone, we shunned all his Invitations and Arguments.

The 31st of the Eighth Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Day came in a Cannoo loaded with Fish, and it was free for those that would, to take as much as they pleased. The Indians put us to go and take, for it was a kind of a Scramble, amongst us and the young Indian Men and Boys : All of us got Fish enough to serve us two or three Days.

The 2d of the Ninth Month, called November, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Morning about Sun-rising, came two strange Indians, who had run so hard that they sweated extreamly, of whom we understood, stood, that the Spaniards were coming with their old Cassekey; which News surprized us, doubting the Truth of it, for Solomon had been gone but sixteen Days, and we understood that they must have an extraordinary Passage to be back in a Month: We had not long to consider of the Matter, for in an Hour's Time we heard four Muskets discharged, and immediately we looked out, and the Spaniards in their Perre-augoe were in sight. The Indians were like a People amazed and overcome with Fear, and we perceived the Noise of a Gun was terrible to them.

The Spaniards landed, being in Number twelve, Sebastian Lopez commanding ten Soldiers, with one Indian an Interpreter. The Spaniards embraced us very cheerfully, and expressed their being glad to find us alive; but we were not able to discourse with each other, though we had so much Spanish as to ask Questions, and answer some Part of what they asked us. One of the Spaniards saying, They could not speak English; nor could we speak Spanish enough to understand each other sufficiently; this the Indians perceived, and immediately cried out Nickaleer, Nickaleer, and looked enviously on us, so that, could they have had their Wills, we believed they would not have suffered us to have lived many Hours; but the Spaniards awed them.

We received a Letter from Solomon, which he writ when he met with Captain Sebastian Lopez, signifying the Governor of Augustine's great Care for our Preservation, of what Nation soever we were ; but how these Persons, or the Governor of Augustine, had Knowledge of us, we could not understand, for they had been fourteen Days from Augustine, which was nigh the Time Solomon went from hence, and they met Solomon about half Way, and sent him for Augustine with other Guides, bringing the old Cassekey and his People with them : We observ'd that the old Cassekey seem'd much dejected ; we supposed the Spaniards had taken from him the Money, and what other Things he had carried with him, or that he was vexed he should be so deceived, in taking us for Spaniards.

The Spaniards were extraordinary kind to us, so that we had Occasion to rejoice, and thank the Lord for this Part of our Deliverance by their Means : They were also a Terror to the Indians, for they searched their Houses, and took all from them that ever they could find, even to the Stub of a Nail, which aggravated them, and increased their Dis-affection to us-ward, so that we dared not to stir from a Spaniard. The Spanish Captain made Enquiry where we were cast away, and what was saved out of our Vessel ? We gave him an Account as well as we could, to make him understand us ; which Account made him very desirous to go down thither ; but he looking over a Paper often, which we supposed was the Governor's Order and Instructions to him, we understood they would not permit him to prosecute his Design ; besides, we made him sensible of the Danger we should be in, if he and his Men should go and leave us amongst these People, who were so bitterly incensed against us.

They then enquired, what became of the Boats that belonged to Smith's Vessel and ours ; we told them, that the Indians had taken Smith's Boat and sunk her some where in the Sound, but ours was at St. a Lucea : The Spaniards made the Indians go and shew where they had sunk Smith's Boat, and help our People to get her up, which being done, she was brought to the Town, and the Spaniards were mightily pleased with her, and proposed, that they in their Cannoo, and our People in that Boat, should go to Hoe-bay, whereby they might get all from the Indians which they had got from us, but we would not countenance the Matter : We were for as speedy a Departing from amongst these People as we could, since it had pleased God to open Way for our Deliverance.

The 3d of the Ninth Month, being the Third Day of the Week.

This Morning the Spanish Captain made the Indians provide two Cannoes, which he caused caused to be lashed together, at some Distance, with Sticks a-cross, and matted on the Top; which being done, with four Indians, Joseph Kirle, John Smith, Robert Barrow, Andrew Murray, Benjamin Allen, Nathaniel Randal, John Shears, Cornelius Toker, Joseph Kirle's Boy, John Hilliard, four Negroes, viz. Jack, Cæsar, Sarah, and Quenza, were sent away for Augustine; but not one Morsel of Victuals, except a very few Berries, had they with them, nor one Spaniard to guard them, but were put under the Government of those four Indians. About an Hour after Joseph Kirle was gone, the Spanish Captain ordered Smith's Boat to be got ready, with two Spaniards, and four of our Men, to row to the Place where the Drift of Smith's Vessel was, to look for Logwood or old Iron: When they returned, there was not any thing of Value; but our People said, that as they were searching about, they found the Bones of Andrew Barnes, his Skull and Jaw-bone being broken, which occasioned us to suspect, that he was knock'd on the Head by the Indians, after they had driven away Smith and his People.

We told the Spanish Captain, that Joseph Kirle's Negro Ben had been absent ever since the Day after Solomon Cresson went from hence, being gone with the old Cassekey's Wife, but we knew not whither. The Captain made Inquiry of the Indians, whither he was gone? They said, for Hoe-bay: Then he ordered them to send for him, for he would not leave him behind: The Indians said, he would be here within a Day or two.

The Spaniards were continually searching for what they could find, of such Things as the Indians had got from us and others, and when they could find no more, they would offer to buy with Tobacco what they could persuade the Indians to bring to light. A Leaf, or half a Leaf of Tobacco would purchase a Yard of Linen or Woolen, or Silk, from the Indians; such Admirers of Tobacco are they, that they esteem it beyond any other Thing.

An Indian of this Town, some Time before the Spaniards came, having a considerable Quantity of Ambergrease, boasted, that when he went for Augustine with that, he could purchase of the Spaniards a Looking-glass, an Axe, a Knife or two, and three or four Mannocoes (which is about five or six Pounds) of Tobacco: The Quantity of Ambergrease might be about five Pounds weight.

The 4th of the Ninth Month, being the Fourth Day of the Week.

This Day we made Oars for Smith's Boat, of Sticks, and the Cattle-pieces of Sugar-hogsheads, which were got on the Beach, where the Drift of Smith's Vessel came on shore; and this Evening came the old Cassidy's Wife, with Joseph Kirtle's Negro Ben, and Josepb Kirlé's Boat, which was of great Advantage to help to carry us. We worked all this Night to fit the Boat and Oars to her, intending to go away as soon as we could compleat this Jobb.
and

The Spaniards had brought little Provision with them, so that there was not much to spare for us, having not above a Row of Corn, and a little Nova-Spain Bread, which was so bad, that it was more Dust and dead Weavels than Bread, an Handful of it was an acceptable Present to us. We would mix it with a little Water, making it to a Paste, which would eat pleasantly; but Hunger was no Stranger to us, and we knew not that we should have any Victuals on our Journey; but our Deliverance seem'd to over-ballance all. The Indians would not give us any Berries, but our People watcht an Opportunity, and took one of the Cassekey's Bags of Berries, which might contain about a Bushel, which was all that One and Thirty of us had to depend on.

The 5th of the Ninth Month, being the Fifth Day of the Week.

This Morning, about three Hours before Day, we departed from this Town of Jece, and the Weather being grown cold, we had nothing wherewith to cover our Bodies, besides what the Indians gave us at first, except my Wife, for whom the Spaniards got an old Jacket Jacket (which had been one of Smith's Men's) and gave it her to wear; also a small Piece of Cloth to cover our poor Child; but it pleased God to strengthen us in this our Condition, so that we rowed all the Day without ceasing, till three Hours after it was dark, by which Time we got to an Indian Town: Here we met with Joseph Kirle, Robert Barrow, and the others, who got thither not above an Hour or two before us. They had not received any manner of Sustenance from the Time they left us, till they got some Berries of us, having lain one Night of the two in a Swamp; but they were as cheerful as Men could be in this Straight.

Since they left us, amongst their other Hardships, Joseph Kirle had like to have lost his Life several Times: The first was thus; whilst the two Cannoes were lashed together, having a few Berries that were designed to have been shared amongst them, the Irish Boy Cornelius Toker, would ever and anon be taking some of them, who, being often reproved by Joseph Kirle and others, would not desist; whereupon Joseph Kirle, with the Paddle he paddled the Canoo along with, struck him; thereupon an Indian took his Bow and Arrow, and was going to shoot Joseph, who seemed little concerned, whether he lived or died; withal saying, The Spaniards would justify him.

Another

Another Time, when he was spent with paddling the Cannoo, and desired John Smith, Andrew Murray, and others of them, as well able as himself, to give him a Spell, which they refused, and he, being not able to paddle further, laid down his Paddle; whereupon the Indians commanded him to paddle, but he refused, saying, They might kill him if they would, opening his Breast for them to execute their Wills; which they seemed as though they would have done, but after great Threatning they desisted.

Another Time, the Wind being high, and the Seas rough, that they were forced to unlash their Cannoes by Joseph Kirle's Persuasion, and to go single, Joseph Kirle taking one Cannoo to his own Management, having Robert Barrow, his Boy, my Kinsman, Nathaniel Randal, and the Negroes in her; which being thus single from the other Company, was more satisfactory to him than before, though there were none to help but Nathaniel Randal: My Negro Woman named Sarah, having beaten and abused a Girl named Quenza, and being reprov'd often by him and Robert Barrow, she therefore abused them in an extraordinary Manner; whereupon Joseph struck her with his Paddle; at which, one of the Indians, in the other Cannoo, took his striking Staff and darted at him, narrowly missing him.

The 6th of the Ninth Month, being the Sixth
Day of the Week.

This Morning Josepb Kirle, with those who were with him, were, by the Spanish Captain ordered away at Break of Day, he not taking any Care to give them a little Sustenance ; and about an Hour or two after we followed, rowing all the Day, without ceasing, till an Hour or two within Night, by which Time we got to an Indian Town, where not any Thing was to be had but Water ; and about two Hours after us came Josepb Kirle. The Spanish Captain would not let them come on Shore, but ordered them to keep on, that we might get next Night to the Place where we must haul our Boats over Land, from one Sound to another.

The 7th of the Ninth Month, being the Seventh
Day of the Week.

This Morning we set forward very early, and rowed hard: About Noon we got to a Parcel of Marshy-Islands, amongst which we were to go up Creeks, but the Passage was very difficult to find; at length, when we were got nigh an Indian Town, the Spaniards hollowed, and an Indian came out into the Marsh, but was very loath to come near us; at last he came wading to us to be our Pilot: We then set forward, and in an Hour's Time or more we got to the Place where Joseph Kirle and those with him were; but the Indians that were with Joseph, would not let them proceed further, till we came up with them. In half an Hour's Time we got to the Place where we were to haul our Boats over Land, being about a quarter of a Mile from Sound to Sound, at which Place the Sea was half a Furlong from us. The Spanish Captain gave the Indian we last took in, a Piece of a Leaf of Tobacco, commanding him to go with all Speed, and bid his Cassekey, with all his able Men, to come and help to haul our Boats over Land; but we set to work, and had them over by that Time the Indians came. The Spanish Captain gave the Cassekey a Leaf or two of Tobacco for himself, and discharged them; only ordered the Cassekey to send some Men a fishing for him, which they did, and before Night they brought a stately parcel of Fish, but none of our People had any Part of it, except my Wife and Penelope; what they did not eat, they kept to carry with them.

A little before Night there sprang up a Storm of Wind at North-East, and it seemed likely to be a dismal Night of Wind and Rain; we were got to a Place where there was not a Tree or Bush, or any manner of Shelter, and the Wind so very cold, that we thought we should not live till the next Day. We had no Wood to make a Fire with, and what to do we could not tell; but we were resolved to try to get some, and in order thereto, thereto, some of the ablest of us went along the Bay to search for Drift-wood, and found a little; but Rain came with the Night, and no Shelter to be had but our Boats, which the Spaniards would not suffer us to meddle with, to turn them Bottom upwards for Shelter, which seemed very hard, for they had made themselves some Shelter with Mats. We were then forced to exercise Patience, and with what Salt-water Wood we had, made as good a Fire as we could, and laid ourselves down on the Sand by it, and it pleased God we had a comfortable Night, beyond our Expectation, notwithstanding the Cold was very sharp.

The 8th of the Ninth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Morning we set forward, but the Water was so low that we were forced to wade, and thrust the Boat along for some Miles; at length we got into a deep Channel, where was nothing to be seen but Marsh and Water, and no fast Land nor Trees. About ten o' Clock we heard three or four Muskets fired a little a-head of us, in the Channel we were in, and our Spaniards presently answered them with the like, and in a little Time we met. This was a Perre-augoe to join with that which came for us, having Orders to go to the Place where we were cast away, and to get what was to be had from the Indians ; but she turned back with us, for there was no Place to go on Shore ; and in an Hour or two's Time we got into the other Sound, where the Land was not to be seen from Side to Side in some Places : The like was in that we came through.

About an Hour before Sun-set we got to an Indian Plantation (this was the first Place we saw any Thing planted) being full of Pompion Vines, and some small Pompions on them, but the Spaniards were too quick for us, and got most of them before us ; nevertheless some of us got a few as big as one's Fist. We made a Fire there, yet had not Patience to dress them as they should be, but put them into the Fire, roasted them, and eat them ; but the Spaniards used a great deal of Cookery with their Pompions. The Perre-augoe that came from Augustine had brought Bread, Corn, and Strung-Beef, but it was kept from us, except a Piece of Strung-Beef the Captain of the Spaniards gave my Wife, as big as a Stick of Sealing-Wax, which we treasured up, expecting it must be harder with us when we left these People.

Here Captain Sebastian Lopez drew up a Writing, and would have had me and Joseph Kirle to sign it, which we refused ; for we perceived he had a Design, especially against me, me, to oblige me to give him some of my Negroes. We answered him short, that I reckoned myself and Negroes at the Governor of Augustine's Disposal, and we would sign no Writing. We borrowed a Pot, and boiled Pompion Leaves, having nothing to put to them but Water, which was satisfactory ; but this Night was more terrible than the last, the Wind being at North-West ; it did not blow hard, yet it was very cold, and we lying in an open Field, without any Shelter, one Side of us would scorch, while the other was freezing. Our Negro Woman Hagar's little Boy, named Cajoe, was seized with Convulsion Fits about two in the Morning, which was chiefly occasioned by the Cold, and Want of Food ; but Help there was not from us. The Spanish Captain came to see the Child, and supposing that it would die, asked, If the Child was a Christian ? He was answered, As good an one as he could make it. But he called for Water, putting some of it on the Crown of the Child's Head, and crossing it, called him Francisco. This Action pacified his Father and Mother.

The 9th of the Ninth Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Morning we were to go forward, and the Spaniards were to return to the Place where we were cast away ; but our two Boats could not carry us all, therefore we had the Spaniards great Perry-augoe to carry us one Day's Journey further to an Indian Town, and four Spaniards with us, three of which were to bring the Perre-augoe back, the other was to be our Guide for Augustine. We departed, but met with an intricate Passage for sometimes we should be a-ground on Oyster-banks, or Shoals, and almost out of Sight of Land. About two or three in the Afternoon we had no Water to go any further, and the Wind being North-Westerly, drove the Water out of the Sound ; but being nigh the Shore, where had been an Indian Town, we went thither, and found some ripe Berries on the Palm Shrubs, which we were very earnest after, till such Time as a Storm of Wind, with Rain, began to come upon us, and Night nigh at hand ; whereupon we all got together, considering what we should do, since there was no possibility of getting Shelter here. Our Indian Guide said, we might get to a Town about two Leagues off, which we were glad to hear, for it rained hard : So we, with our Guide, set forward, and walked over a parcel of scraggy, shrubby Hills, to the Sea-shore, along which we travelled till we came to the Indian Town, where we got plenty of Berries for our Supper. It rained much till towards Morning.

The 10th of the Ninth Month, being the Third Day of the Week.

This Morning the Indians not being willing to stay any longer, we were by our Guide required to depart, which we did, and a great many young Indian Men followed us several Miles along the Bay, and offered Violence to Robert Barrow, and some others, but they were easily stopp'd, by shewing them a rusty Musket presented towards them, and so they left us. We had an untoward Passage from the Sea-shore, athwart the Land, to the Indian Town, the Ground being swampy, and scraggy Hills, which to our bare Feet was very troublesome; but when we came to it, it was a large Town, and there was another large Town about a Mile distant, in Sight, to which part of our Company was sent to be quartered: At this Town, about a Twelve-Month before, a parcel of Dutchmen were killed, who having been cast away on the Bohemian Shoals, they, in a Flat which they built, escaped hither, and were devoured by these Canibals, as we understood by the Spaniards. The Flat, or Boat, our People saw; but they seemed kind to them, giving them Fish and Berries to eat. We remained at these two Towns till next Morning. The Indians of the Town I was at, were not so kind as those at the other Town had been. Some of our People were for selling their Rags to the Indians for Fish; but we thought it was necessary, of the two Extrems, to defend against the Cold, for every Day grew colder than the other, and we feared, that if we were much longer exposed to it, we should not live it out.

The 11th of the Ninth Month, being the Fourth Day of the Week.

This Morning we embarked in our two Boats, and those of our People that were at the other Town, were to have a large Cannoo to carry them from thence, and were to meet us in the Sound: We rowed several Leagues, but did not meet them, it being then about ten o' Clock, so the Spaniard would go on Shore, and travel back by Land to see after them; and we being by an Inlet of the Sea, which was a Mile over, the Spaniard ordered us to go on the other Side, and there stay for him; which we did for many Hours. At this Place we all went upon the Search, to see if any Thing was to be had for the Belly, some on the Land, some in the Water: The Land yielded nothing, but in the Water we got a Sort of Shell-Fish, called Water-Soldiers, which we eat. At length the Cannoo with our People came, the Spaniard not being with them, but in about half an Hour's Time he came with another small Cannoo. This was the Place where Solomon met the Spaniards. The Cannoes had each two Indians to set them along, and we had one Indian for our Guide, named Wan-Antonia, who the Spaniard said was a Christian, but an Inhabitant of that Town where the Dutchmen were kill'd. We set forward in our two Boats, and the two Cannoos, and rowed till Night, being nigh a Place of thicketty Wood, which we made choice of to lodge at for this Night: Here was Wood enough, and we made large Fires, were pleased with the Place, and lay down to rest.

About Midnight I had a great Loss; having a Quart of Berries whole, and as much pounded to mix with Water, to feed our Child with, the Fire being disturbed, the Cloth which we had our Food in was burnt, and all was lost, and nothing was to be had till we could get to the Spaniards, which was two Days March at least. About an Hour after this the Wind rose at North-West, and it began to rain; but having small Palmetto, which grew nigh, Joseph Kirle and I set to work and made a Shelter, which would keep ten or more of us from the Weather: We had no sooner compleated our Work, but it rained hard. In this Shower of Rain the four Indians got from among us, took their Cannoos, and away they went back again; when Day appeared, we missed them; upon which we went to the Water-side, where we found the two Cannoos gone. And now we were in a great Straight; but the Spaniard said, those that could travel best must go by Land.

The

The Persons pitch'd upon, were Richard Linpeny, Andrew Murray, Cornelius Toker, Josep Kirlé's Boy, John Hilliard, and Penelope with seven Negroes, named, Peter, Jack, Cæsar, Sarah, Bella, Susanna, and Quenza the Spaniard and the Indian Wan-Antonia went with them to direct the Way, carrying them over Land to the Sea-shore, and then directing to keep the Sea-shore along to the Northward; after which they returned to us and we with our two Boats rowed all Day without ceasing, till Sun-set, and when we put on Shore, the Place was an old Indian Field, on a high bleak Hill, where had been a large Indian House, but it was tumbled down; of the Ruins of this House we made Shelter against the North-West Wind, which began to blow very bleak, and the Spaniard went to the Sea, which was not two Miles off, to see if our People had past, and at his Return he said, They were gone by. We asked if they could reach to any House, or Indian Town for Shelter? For we supposed, should they be without Fire this Night, they could not live: He said, They must travel all Night. Night came on, we had Fire and Wood enough, and had gathered a great Heap of Grass to lie on, hoping to have got some Rest, but the North-West Wind increased and the Cold was so violent, that we were in a lamentable Condition, not being able to rest; for as we lay or stood close to the Fire that it would scorch us, the Side from it was ready to freeze ; so we had no other Way out to stand and keep running for the most Part of the Night, and we all thought we had never felt the like : The Spaniard that was cloathed, was as bad to bear it as we that were naked. At length Day appeared, and we must go.

The 13th of the Ninth Month, being the Sixth Day of the Week.

This Morning we were loath to part with our Fires, but to stay here it could not be ; so we went to our Boats, wading in the Water till it was ready to benumb us, and we put forward, rowing about two Leagues, then came to an old House, where the Spaniard told us we must leave the Boats and travel by Land ; we had a boggy Marsh to wade through, for a Mile, to get to the Sea-shore, and had about five or six Leagues, along the Bay or Strand, to the Spanish Sentinel's House. The North-West Wind was violent, and the Cold such, that the Strongest of us thought we should not out-live that Day. Having got through the boggy Marsh, and on the Sea shore, our People, black and white, made all Speed, one not staying for another, that could not travel so fast ; none but I, with my Wife and Child, Robert Barrow, my Kinsman Benjamin Allen, and my Negro London, whom I kept to help carry my Child, keeping together ;

together ; the rest of our Company had left us, not expecting to see some of us again, especially Robert Barrow, my Wife and Child, but we travelled after them as well as we could, and having gone about two Miles, the Cold so seized on my Kinsman Benjamin Allen, that he began to be stiff in his Limbs, staggered and fell, grievously complaining that the Cold would kill him. Our Negro having the young Child, I and my Wife took our Kinsman under each Arm, and help'd him along ; but at length his Limbs were quite stiff, his Speech almost gone, and he began to foam at the Mouth. In this Straight we knew not what to do, if we staid with him, we must perish also ; but we were willing to strive as long as we could ; therefore we carried our Kinsman, and laid him under the Bank, he not being yet dead, and I resolved to run after our People, some of them not being out of Sight ; which I did, and left my Wife and Child, with the Negro, to follow as fast as they could. I run about two Miles, making Signs to them, thinking if they should look behind and see me running, they would stop till I got up with them : I was also in Hopes, that if I could have accomplished this my Design, to have got Help to have carried my Kinsman along ; but they stopped not, and I ran till the Wind pierced me so, that my Limbs failed me, and I fell, yet still I strove, and getting up, walked backward to meet my Wife :

Wife : As I was returning, I met with the Spaniard coming out of the Sand-hills, and Joseph Kirle's Negro Ben ; I made my Complaint to the Spaniard, but he not being able to understand me well, went forward ; I then applied myself to the Negro, making large Promises if he would fetch my Kinsman ; he offered to go back and use his Endeavour, which he did. At length my Wife and Child came up with me : She was almost overcome with Grief, expressing in what Manner we were forced to part with our Kinsman, and expecting that she and the Child should go next.

Poor Robert Barrow was a great Way behind us, and I feared we should never see him again. I used my Endeavour to comfort and cheer my Wife, intreating her not to let Grief overcome her, I had Hopes that the Lord would help us in this Strait, as he had done in many since we were in this Land ; and if it pleased God that we should lay down our Lives in this Wilderness, that we might beseech him to enable us to do it willingly. Thus striving in a deep Exercise of Body and Mind, we travelled on, admiring God's Goodness in preserving us thus far through so many imminent Dangers ; in the Sense of which, a secret Hope would arise (though involved with human Doubts and Fears) That the Lord would yet preserve us.

I took my Child from the Negro and carried him, and having an Indian Mat, with a Slit in it, through which I put my Head hanging over my Breast upon my Waist under this I carried my Child, which helped to break the Wind off; but the poor Babe was black with Cold from Head to Foot, and its Flesh as cold as a Stone, yet it was not froward. Its Mother would take it now and then, and give it the Breast, but little could he get at it; besides, we dared not to stop in the least, for if we did, we should perceive our Limbs to fail.

About two o' Clock in the Afternoon we came up with our Negro Woman Hagar, with her Child at her Back almost dead, and a little further we came up with our Negro Girl Quenza, being dead, as we thought, for she was as stiff as a dead Body could be, and her Eyes set; but at length we perceived her to breathe, but she had no Sense nor Motion, and we carried her from the Water-side under the Bank. This increased my Wife's Sorrow, and she began to doubt she should not be able to travel much further; but I endeavoured to encourage her not to leave her Striving as long as any Ability was left.

All our People were out of Sight, except four, and those we had gained upon: I sent my Negro to overtake them, and to desire them to slacken their Pace till we got up with them, being in Hopes, that gaining their Company would cheer up my Wife, but they would not; so the Negro stopped for us, and we had lost Sight of Robert Barrow by this Time.

Soon after we overtook John Smith, who was one of the four, and he began to fail, and his Companions left him ; whereupon he made grievous Complaints, which I reprov'd him for, lest he should discourage my Wife.

The Sun was nigh setting, and we began to look out for the Sentinel's Post, and my Negro at Times got upon several of the highest Sand-hills to look out, but could not see any House, nor the Smoak of Fire ; this was terrible to us all, for the Day being so cold, the Night much more, and we not able to travel without Rest, being a starv'd People, both within our Bodies and without ; and if we ceased from travelling, we should instantly be benumb'd and move no further.

In the midst of these Reasonings and Doubtings we were got into, I espied a Man, as I thought, standing on the Bank, but at a great Distance ; I was afraid to speak, lest it should prove otherwise, but he was soon seen by the whole Company ; and at length we espied him walking towards the Land ; this confirm'd us, and so we betook to the Hills again to look out, yet we could not see the House from thence ; but on the next Hill we saw it : This was Joy to us, though we began to have a Sense of our Tiredness ; for our Resolution abated after we had got Sight of the House.

When we got to the House we found four Sentinels, and the Spaniards our Guides, with three of our Men, viz. Joseph Buckley, Nathaniel Randal, and John Shears, and the Spaniards bid us welcome, making room for us to sit down by the Fire. The chieftest Man of the Sentinels took a Kersey Coat, and gave it my Wife to cover her, and gave each of us a Piece of Bread made of Indian Corn, which was pleasant to us, and afterwards we had plenty of hot Casseena Drink. It was dark, but we endeavoured to prevail with the Spaniards to go and seek for Robert Barrow and my Kinsman, offering them considerable ; but they seemed not fully to understand me, yet I could make them sensible that my Kinsman was almost dead, if not quite, and that the old Man was in a bad Condition : They made me to understand, that the Weather was not fit to go out, but they would watch if Robert passed by.

About an Hour or two after, one of the Spaniards being walking nigh the Bay, met with Robert, and brought him into the House, at which we rejoiced to see him, and enquired concerning our Kinsman, and the Negro Ben : He said, our Kinsman was striving to get up, but could not ; he came to him, and spake to him, and he could not answer, but cried, and he could not help him ; but coming along, at some considerable Distance, he met Negro Ben, who said, he was going for Benjamin Allen ;

Allen ; so he past him : And some Miles further, he saw Negro Jack drawing himself down from the Bank, his lower Parts being dead, and crying out for some Fire, that he might save his Life ; but he did not see the Negro Girl whom we hauled out of the Way.

We were under a great Concern for our Kinsman ; the Spaniards we could not prevail on to go and fetch him, or go and carry wherewith to make a Fire ; which had they done, and found them living, it might have preserved them ; but we hoped Negro Ben would bring our Kinsman.

The Spaniards would have had most of us to have gone to the next Sentinel's House, which was a League farther, but we all begged hard of them to let us lie at their House, in any Place on the Ground, for we were not able to travel further : Besides, the Cold would kill us ; for we were in such a trembling shaking Condition, and so full of Pain from Head to Foot, that it is not to be expressed. At length the Spaniards consented that Robert Barrow, I, my Wife and Child, and John Smith, should lie in the House ; but to Joseph Buckley, Nathaniel Randal, John Shears, and my Negro London, they would not grant that Favour ; so one of the Spaniards taking a Fire-brand, bid those four go with him, and he directed them to a small Thicket of Trees, and ordered them to gather Wood, and make large Fires, and sleep there. These poor Creatures lay out, and it proved a hard frosty Night. When the Spaniard returned he said, they were got into a Wood, and had Fire enough ; but we were silent, fearing they would hardly live till Morning.

After they were gone, the Spaniards took a Pint of Indian Corn and parched it, and gave Part to us, which we accepted cheerfully ; also they gave us some Cassena Drink ; but we were in extraordinary Pain so that we could not rest, and our Feet were extremely bruised, the Skin being off, and the Sand caked with the Blood, so that we could hardly set our Feet to the Ground after we had been some Time in the House.

The Night proved extreme cold : Though we were in the House, and by the Fire, we could not be warm, for the one Side did scorch whilst the other was ready to freeze ; and thus we passed that Night.

The 14th of the Ninth Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Morning we looked out, and there being a very hard Frost on the Ground, it was terrible to go out of Doors. Our People returned from the Wood, but complained heavily of their Hardship in the Night. They had not been an Hour in the House, before the Spaniards gave us all a Charge to be gone to the next Sentinel's House : This was grievous to us all, but more especially to my

my Wife, who could not raise herself when down ; but go we must ; for though we intreated hard for my Wife and Robert Barrow, we could not prevail that they might stay till we could get a Cannoo. As we were all going, one Spaniard made a Sign for me and my Wife to stay, which we did, and it was to have a Handful of parch'd Corn ; as soon as we had received it, they bid us be gone to the next Sentinel's, where was Victuals enough for us. The Sun was a great Height, but we could not feel any Warmth it gave, the North-Wester beginning to blow as hard as it did the Day before ; and having deep Sand to go through, made our travelling this one League very hard, especially to my Wife and Robert Barrow ; but the Spaniards lent my Wife a Blanket, to be left at the next Sentinel's House.

At length we came to an Inlet of the Sea, on the other Side whereof was the Look-out and Sentinel's House : Here were all our People sitting, waiting to be carried over, and in a little Time came one of the Sentinels with a Cannoo and carried us over.

This Sentinel would not suffer us to come into his House, but caused us to kindle a Fire under the Lee of his House, and there sit down : About half an Hour after, he bid us be gone to the next Sentinel's, which was a League further, giving us a Cup of Casseena, and two Quarts of Indian Corn for us all, bidding bidding us to go to our Company at the next House, and get our Corn dressed there.

I understood that our Negro - Woman Hagar, got hither late the Night before having her Child dead at her Back, which the Spaniards buried.

One of the Spaniards went with us to the next Inlet, carrying a Stick of Fire, to light some Trash to make a Signal for them on the other Side to fetch us over, the Inlet being very wide. When the Cannoo came over for us, our Guide took the Blanket from my Wife ; but the Negro, which brought over the Cannoo, lent my Wife one of his Coats, so we got over well ; but before we got to the House, we had a Shower of Hail. At this House we were kindly received, having such a Mess of Victuals as we had not had in a long Time before, which was very pleasant to our hunger-starv'd Stomachs.

Our People went from hence this Morning for Augustine, having a Guide with them ; but John Hosler and Penelope were left here, not being able to travel, and we remained here till the next Day, but the Night was so extream cold that we could not rest.

The 15th of the Ninth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Morning the Spaniards bid us prepare to travel, for they were not able to maintain us ; and we understanding that it was five or six

ix Miles to Augustine, could not travel so far, being all of us lamed and stiff; therefore we intreated them to let us go in a Cannoo, but they denied us; we then intreated for the two Women and Robert Barrow, and at length we prevailed, that they should go up in a Cannoo; for the Cannoo was to go, whether we went or not.

While all this Discourse was, came in a couple of Spaniards, one being the Sentinel that went with our People the Day before; the other was a Person the Governor had sent with a Cannoo and four Spaniards to fetch us. This was cheerful News; for had we gone to have travelled without a Guide, we should have perished. The Man that came for us, brought two Blankets, one for my Wife, the other for Penelope, and he desired us to be going. About a League distance from the Place he left the Cannoo, which we parted with very unwillingly, for some of our People, had they had a Mile further to have gone, could not have gone it. The Wind still continued at North-West, and blowed very fiercely, and extream cold it was: We had such a continual Shivering and Pain in our Bones, that we were in violent Anguish.

Our poor Child was quiet, but so black with Cold and Shaking, that it was admirable how it lived.

We got to Augustine about two Hours before Night, and being put on Shore, we were were directed to the Governor's House, where we were had up a Pair of Stairs, at the Head whereof stood the Governor, who ordered my Wife to be conducted to his Wife's Apartment.

I and John Smith went into a Room, where the Governor asked us a few Questions ; but seeing how extream cold we were, he gave us a Cup of Spanish Wine, and sent us into his Kitchen to warm ourselves at the Fire.

About half an Hour afterwards, the Governor sent for John Smith and me, and gave each of us a Shirt and Sliders, a Hat and a Pair of Silk Stockings, telling us, He had no Woollen Cloaths as yet, but would have some made : We put on the Linen, and made all Haste into the Kitchen to the Fire. Robert Barrow was quartered at another House.

Several Persons came to the Governor's House, and took such as they were minded to quarter in their Houses, but Joseph Kirle, John Smith, I, my Wife and Child, lodged at the Governor's House.

All our People that came up with Joseph Kirle came to see us, and we perceived the People's great Kindness, for they were all well cloathed from Head to Foot, with the best the People had.

Joseph Kirle then began to tell us of his Travels, after he left us on the Bay, and how that they all concluded, that they should never see my Wife and Child, and Robert Barrow

Barrow any more, if they did my Kinsman and me. Richard Limpeny, and those that went with him, had a hard Travel for thirty-six Hours without ceasing, in which three of our Negroes, that went with them, were lost, viz. Jack, Cæsar and Quenza, by sitting down to rest themselves, who were in a little Time so benumb'd that they could not go, and there perished, so that we lost five in that Day's Travel, and began to doubt that Negro Ben perished also.

Joseph Kirle said, that he thought he should have lost some of our People in their Travel from the last Sentinel's hither, for they were much tired, and the Cold violent; and the latter Part of that Day's Journey, they waded for many Miles through much Water, and deep Sand-hills, and when they came in Sight of Augustine, they staid for Boats to fetch them, in which Time some were benumbed with the Cold.

Joseph Kirle had applied himself to the Governor on our Behalfe, to send us Help, for he doubted whether we were all living, and the Governor readily assented, and forthwith sent for a Person fit for his Purpose, charging him to get a Perre-augoe, and go forthwith to fetch us; but the Tide fell out so, that he could not go till Midnight: The Governor was so concerned, that he would not go to Bed till they were gone, and when the Tide served, served, he went to the Water-side, and saw the Men put off, giving them a strict Charge.

Solomon Cresson then began to tell us of his Travels from Jece, having for most part of the Way much Rain: The Indians were very kind to him, till they came to the Indian Town where the Dutchmen were killed, at which Place, some of the Indians made a Discovery of his being no Spaniard: They said nothing to him thereof, but were very dogged, giving him no Food, and causing him to lie on the Ground amongst Vermin.

On the next Day he was to go with his former Company, who were grown so extream bitter and envious against him, that when they did but look upon him, they were ready to smite him; and having gone till about Mid-day, passing an Inlet, the Weather being extream bad with Wind, Rain, and much Cold, they put on Shore, (this was the Place where we put on Shore, and got Water Soldiers, and staid for the Spaniard, when he went back to look for our People that were to follow us in a Cannoo) but the Rage of these People was such, that he expected to die: Being on Shore, they readily kindled a Fire, about which Time he heard a Noise of a Boat and Oars, and presently the Spanish Perre-augoe put on Shore upon them: The Indians were extraordinarily surprized, and stood amazed, but Solomon was glad to see them, and they him. The Spaniards took the he old Cassekey's Chest, and whatever he had, from him, commanding them to return to the Indian Towns from whence they came. Staying here all Night, the next Morning the Spaniards sent Solomon, under the Conduct of two Indians belonging to these Towns, who were commanded by the Spaniards to carry Solomon to the Sentinel's House ; but these two Indians carried him a little beyond the Place where we put on Shore to travel, and they seem'd as though they had Mischief in their Hearts against him : He asked, If they would go forward ? But they looking un-towardly on him, answered him not : So he went himself, and was glad when he saw they did not follow him.

Now we were desirous to know, how the Spaniards had Knowledge of us ; which it seems was thus :

When we got to Jece, where Smith and his Company were, and we going under the Denomination of Spaniards, and the other English, the Report of us run from Indian Town to Indian Town to the Northward, even to the Northernmost Town, at which Town were two or more Indians who were converted to the Romish Faith : These, or one of these, went to the next Spanish Sentinel's, and gave an Account, that he heard that there were two Vessels cast away to the Southward of Jece, one being a Spaniard, the other an English Vessel ; and the Spaniards having two Vessels gone for the Havanna, to seek for Supplies, feared they were those Vessels ; and the same Day as this News came to the Governor of Augustine, came also News of one of their Friars being murder'd by some of the Cape Indians ; and after this Manner we understood it, viz.
K having

Three Friars being under a Vow to go amongst the Indians on the Cape to convert them, they went to a certain Town to the Northward, off which we were cast away, but it lay within the Sound. The Cassekey of that Town they gained on to embrace the Roman Faith, but his People were much incensed against the Friars, and therefore would have their Cassekey renounce his Faith, and put the Friars to Death, but he would assent to neither ; therefore they killed him and one Friar, the other two escaped. Hereupon was a Perre-augoe forthwith sent for us, of what Nation soever we might be ; also a Party of Spaniards and Indians were sent against that Town where the Friar was killed.

After having thus related our several Travels, we had a plentiful Supper provided, and we fed like People that had been half starved ; for we eat, not knowing when we had enough, and found our Palates so changed by eating of the Berries, that we could not relish the Taste of Salt, no more than if it had no Saltiness in it, we had also Lodging provided, but few Beds.

The 16th of the Ninth Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Morning we had Ice half an Inch thick, and it had been so for some Mornings past, but as the Sun arose, it dissolved.

The Governor came in this Morning to our Apartment, enquiring How we did? And we having had Chocolate for Breakfast, he asked, If we would have any Thing else that his House could afford? If we would but ask, it should be brought us: But we modestly answered, That this was sufficient; although our Appetites were not to be satisfied. The Governor then stated the Poverty of the Country to us.

This Place is a Garrison, maintained one Half by the King of Spain; the other Half by the Church of Rome. The Male Inhabitants are all Soldiers, every one receiving Pay according to his Post; a Sentinel's Pay is 150 Pieces of Eight a Year; and all their Supply of Bread, Cloathing and Money, comes from the Havanna and Porta Vella, and it was going on of three Years since they had a Vessel from any Place whatsoever, which made their Wants very great, all Things being expended, except Ammunition and Salt, of which they said they had enough; but the Governor offered us the Freedom of what his House afforded, withal, he gave us a Charge to be careful in going Abroad, especially of some Persons that did not affect our Nation, and we promised to be ruled, and submit to the Governor's Pleasure for our Liberty.

Our People coming in, we told them of the Governor's Caution ; but they said, they had been all over the Town, and in many Houses, where they were kindly received, and such as the People had they would give them. They also told us of some English that liv'd here, and they had been at their Houses ; the chiefest in Esteem was one William Carr, of the Isle of Ely, who about thirty Years before was in a Vessel bound for South-Carolina, but they missing their Port, were cast away nigh Augustine, and many were drowned ; but he and some others being brought hither by the Indians, some of them got away in Spanish Vessels, and others died here. This Man turned Roman Catholick, and married a Spanish Woman, by whom he had seven Children, and is an Officer in the Garrison ; he was our chief Interpreter.

This Day came Joseph Kirle's Negro Ben, and he gave us an Account, that after we had sent him back, and he having look'd, and not finding my Kinsman, he went to seek for a Place to shelter himself from the Cold, and a Place he found to creep in, where he lay down, and continued all Night, but by the Morning was so stiff with Cold that he could not use his Legs, but hauled himself towards the Bay ; when the Spaniard, our Guide from the first Sentry-house, the Morning after we went from from thence, returning along the Bay, to see if any of our People were living, found all dead except Negro Ben, for whom he made a Fire, by which he was recovered and got the Use of his Limbs.

William Carr the Interpreter acquainted us, that the Governor and two royal Officers would examine us, concerning our being cast away, and what Goods and Monies was lost in our Vessel, and concerning our Hardships amongst the Florida Indians, &c. which was done, and every one did sign it. This took up two or three Days Time to compleat it; but after it was done, the Governor told us, that he expected Captain Sebastian Lopez in a few Days, and after his Arrival, he would provide for our going to Carolina, with Cannoos and Men to guard us.

This Week my Wife was taken with a Fever and Ague, which held her three Days, and then left her. The Governor order'd his own Doctor to administer such Things as were helpful, and his Kindness to us all was extraordinary; for he would daily enquire of us if we wanted any Thing which he had, of which he gave us an Account, and we eat no worse than he did daily.

The Town we saw from one End to the other; it is about three Quarters of a Mile in length, not regularly built, nor the Houses very thick, they having large Orchards, in which are Plenty of Oranges, Lemons, Pome Citrons, Limes, Figs and Peaches: The Houses are most of them old Buildings, and not half of them inhabited, the Number of Men being about three Hundred, who belong to the Government, and many of them are kept as Sentinels at their Look-outs. At the North-end of the Town standeth a large Fortification, being a Quadrangle with Bastions, and each Bastion will contain thirteen Guns; but there was not past two-thirds of fifty-two mounted. In the Curtin they cannot mount any Guns, being only for small Arms. The Wall of the Fortification is about thirty Feet high, built of saw'd Stone, such as they get out of the Sand, between the Sea and the Sound. This Stone is only Sand and small Shells connexed together, being not very hard till exposed to the Sun. The Fort is moated round; they would not admit us to come near the Fort, but Joseph Kirle took an Opportunity and walked round about it.

The 23d of the Ninth Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Day Joseph Kirle and I, considering that the latter End of the Week was talked of, for our setting forwards towards Carolina, (which the Spaniards call St. George's) we concluded to endeavour to provide ourselves, if we could, with Clothing, considering we should be exposed to all the Weather that might happen, and have no Shelter but what we carried with us ; therefore we were inclined to sell some of our Negroes, to provide us Clothing and Provisions. We addressed ourselves to the Governor, and withal offered him, if he pleased, to accept the Choice of the Negroes ; but he denied our Offer. We then stated the Matter to him, and asked, If we might dispose of our Negroes ? He said, No, we should not ; neither could we sell them to any Person but himself for the King's Account, without a special License ; therefore he would consult the two Royal Officers, and give us his Answer.

The 24th of the Ninth Month, being the Third Day of the Week.

This Day the Governor sent for us, and told us, That he would give us Credit for what we, and the rest of the Company wanted. I told him, that my Wife and Child would require some warmer Clothing ; also Joseph Kirle and myself should want some, if to be had. He ordered us to give in an Account of what we should want, and, if to be had, we should have it ; and that Joseph Kirle and I should give our Obligation, to pay the Governor of Carolina what the Sum amounted to, which we were willing to do ; and then we desired that our People should give us their Obligation, for what we were engaged for on their Account, which the Governor thought thought reasonable. I gave in an Account of Particulars for Joseph Kirle, Robert Barrow, myself and Family ; also the Quantity of Indian Corn, Pease, Stringed Beef, Salt and Earthen Pots, for the whole Company ; but Clothing was not to be had, except as much Stuff as made a Suit for my Wife and Child, and a few Skins for Joseph Kirle and I ; I got also seven Blankets, though the Price was great, and these served Joseph Kirle, Robert Barrow, myself and Family. We had five Roves of Ammunition Bread so full of Weavel, that Corn was far better, twenty Roves of Strung Beef, sixty Roves of Indian Corn, ten Roves of Pease, one Rove of Salt, Jars for Water, and Earthen Pots to boil our Victuals in.

The 25th of the Ninth Month, being the Fourth Day of the Week.

This Day the Governor sent for Joseph Kirle and me, to certify, that all that was to be got, he had provided for us ; and he further signified to us, that he did expect Sebastian Lopez before this Time, and he would not have us go till he came ; for whatsoever he could get of our Money and Goods we should have it every Doit : But we said, we desired not to be detained on that Account, for we had given that already over for gone from us ; and as it had pleased God to make them

the Instruments of our Preservations, so we did freely give any Thing of that which was, or may be deemed ours, to the Governor, and those Persons that were sent for us. The Governor said; he would not have any thing to do with it; for whatsoever he did was for Charity-sake. Then we desired the Soldiers might have it, if any should be got, which we doubted. And hereupon we considered, that should those poor Men get nothing, we ought to allow them something in general; therefore Joseph Kirle and I offered the Governor, that we would give Captain Sebastian Lopez and his Men one Hundred Pieces of Eight, for bringing us up from amongst the Indians. The Governor was pleased with our Offer, and said, they should have it.

About this Time Robert Barrow was taken with a grievous Belly-ach, and afterwards he fell into a violent Flux. Several of our People also were taken with the Belly-ach, and a great Scouring, all which was chiefly occasioned by our unreasonable Eating, and not governing ourselves therein. Our chief Diet was Hommony, Herbs and Pompions, having not much Meat, which mean Diet was our Preservation; for had it been all Flesh, we should have destroyed ourselves; but we had the best the Place afforded.

The

*The 26th of the Ninth Month, being the Fifth
Day of the Week.*

This Day we signed our Obligation for four Hundred Pieces of Eight, and we were to be gone the 29th Instant: After which, our People signed their Obligation to us, to pay their Proportion of what was provided for them in Provisions, and their Part of what should be paid for their Passage from hence to Carolina; whereupon we made the best Provision we could: I had got some Wine and Brandy for myself and Family, and some small Necessaries for our Child, with great Resolution to go through.

The 27th of the Ninth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Day after we had dined, Cannoos being got ready, one Captain Francisco de Roma, with six Soldiers, was to go as our Conduct, and the Governor walked down to see us embark, and taking our Farewel, he embraced some of us, and wished us well, saying, WE SHOULD FORGET HIM WHEN WE GOT AMONGST OUR OWN NATION; and also added, THAT IF WE FORGOT, GOD WOULD NOT FORGET HIM: And thus in a courteous Manner we parted, which was about two or three o' Clock in the Afternoon.

Taking our Departure from Augustine, we had about two or three Leagues to an Indian Town

Town called St. a Cruce, where, being landed, we were directed to the Indian Warehouse: It was built round, having sixteen Squares, and on each Square a Cabbin built, and painted, which would hold two People, the House being about fifty Feet Diameter; and in the Middle of the Top was a square Opening about fifteen Feet. This House was very clean, and Fires being ready made nigh our Cabbin, the Spanish Captain made choice of Cabbins for him and his Soldiers, and appointed us our Cabbins. In this Town they have a Friar, and a large House to worship in, with three Bells; and the Indians go as constantly to their Devotions, at all Times and Seasons, as any of the Spaniards. Night being come, and the Time of their Devotion over, the Friar came in, and many of the Indians, both Men and Women, and they had a Dance, according to their Way and Custom. We had Plenty of Casseena Drink, and such Victuals as the Indians had provided for us, some bringing Corn boiled, others Pease; some one Thing, some another; of all which we made a good Supper, and slept till Morning.

The 30th of the Ninth Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Morning early we left this Town, having about two Leagues to go with the Cannoes, and then we were to travel by Land;

Land ; but a Cart was provided to carry our Provisions and Necessaries, in which those that could not travel were carried. We had about five Leagues to a Sentinel's House, where we lay all Night, and next Morning travelled along the Sea-shore about four Leagues to an Inlet : Here we waited for Cannoos to come for us, to carry us about two Miles to a Town called St. Wan's, an Indian Town, being on an Island. We went through a Kirt of Wood into the Indian Plantations, for a Mile. In the Middle of this Island is the Town of St. Wan's, a large Town, and many People ; they have a Friar, and a Worship-house. The People are very industrious, having Plenty of Hogs and Fowls, and large Crops of Corn, as we could tell by their Corn-houses. The Indians brought us Victuals, as at the last Town, and we lay in their Warehouse, which was larger than that at the other Town.

The 2d of the Tenth Month, called December, being the Fourth Day of the Week.

This Morning the Indians brought us Victuals for Breakfast, and the Friar gave my Wife some Loaves of Bread made of Indian Corn, which was somewhat extraordinary ; also a parcel of Fowls.

About ten o' Clock in the Forenoon we left St. Wan's, walking about a Mile to the Sound, where were Cannoos and Indians ready to transport us to the next Town: We did believe that we might have come all the Way along the Sound, but the Spaniards were not willing to discover the Place to us.

An Hour before Sun-set we got to the Town call'd St. Mary's: This was a Frontier, and a Garrison Town; the Inhabitants are Indians, with some Spanish Soldiers. We were conducted to the Warehouse, as the Custom is, for every Town hath a Warehouse: Or, as we understood, these Houses were either for their Times of Mirth and Dancing, or to lodge and entertain Strangers. The House was about 81 Feet Diameter, built round, with 32 Squares, in each Square a Cabbin about 8 Feet long, of a good Height, being painted and well matted. The Centre of the Building was a Quadrangle of 20 Feet, being open at Top, against which the House is built; thus in this Quadrangle is the Place they dance, having a great Fire in the Middle: One of the Squares of this Building is the Gateway or Passage in. The Women Natives of these Towns, cloath themselves with the Moss of Trees, making Gowns and Petticoats thereof, which, at a Distance, or in the Night, looks very neat. The Indian Boys, we saw, were kept to School in the Church, the Friar being their School-Master. This was the largest Town of all, and about a Mile from it was another Town called St. Philip's. At this Town of St. Mary's were we to stay till the 5th or 6th Instant ; where also we were to receive our sixty Roves of Corn, and ten Roves of Pease ; and while we staid, we had one half of our Corn beaten into Meal by the Indians, the other we kept whole, not knowing what Weather we should have, for the Friar of this Town, some Years before, was at Charles-Town in South-Carolina, and he had a Month's Passage in going, about this Time of the Year : This News was very unpleasant, to think of lying out a Month at this Season, having been so Weather-beaten before ; but we endeavoured to shun looking back, considering how great our Preservation had been hitherto.

While we staid here, we were willing to make all the Provision we could for Back and Belly : We got of the Indians Plenty of Garlick and Long-Pepper, to season our Corn and Pease, both which were griping and windy, and we made us wooden Trays, and Spoons to eat with : We got Rushes, and made a sort of platted Rope thereof : the Use we chiefly intended it for, was to be serviceable to help us in building Huts or Tents with, at such Times as we should meet with hard Weather.

The Time drawing on that we were to leave this Town, we had seven large Cannoos provided to carry us, being in all about sixty Persons ; eighteen of us, six of Smith's Company, seven Spaniards, and thirty odd odd Indians, which were to row the Cannoos, and be our Pilots. We had some Indians from all the Towns, and two Cassekeys.

We understood that the Carolina-Indians, called the Yammasees, which are related to these Indians, were here about a Month before, trading for Deer-skins.

I have omitted a considerable Passage that happened at Augustine : The Woman named Penelope, being big with Child, she, by the Spaniards Persuasion, staid with them ; also Joseph Kirle's Boy named John Hilliard, was detained by the Spaniards. Joseph Kirle strove hard with the Governor that he might have his Boy, but the Lad was conveyed out of Town, and not to be found. The Governor promised, that he would send him after him, if possible, but the Boy came not to us, and we were to depart hence on the Morrow.

The 6th of the Tenth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Morning we embarked, and departed this Place, and put into the Town of St. Philip's, where the Spanish Captain invited us on Shore to drink Casseena, which we did ; and the Spaniards having left something behind, we staid here about an Hour, and then set forward.

About two or three Leagues from hence, we came in Sight of an Indian Town called Sappataw, but we went about a League to the Northward of it, to a Sentinel's House, where we put our Boats on Shore, and had Casseena brought us, making no Stay ; but we went from hence, rowing till next Morning, and in the Night we had lost our Way, but got to rights in a little Time.

The 7th of the Tenth Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Morning we put on Shore, having past an Inlet of the Sea, and here we drest some Victuals, and got a little Sleep, till the Tide served. Some of our Indians went out a hunting for Deer and Hogs, of both which, the Spaniards said, there was Plenty ; and when the Tide served, we were to go to the Northernmost End of this Island, and stay for the Hunters. One of the Indians brought a Deer, which he threwed down amongst the other Indians, and went out again to hunt, to the North End of the Island, where we were to rendezvous for this Night. We set forward about ten o' Clock, and got to the Place appointed an Hour or two before Sunset, it being a fine lofty Wood, where we employed ourselves in getting Fire-wood for the Night, and Moss to lie on, of both which we got plenty, having a large Oak to lie under.

The Indians brought in several Hogs and Deer, of which we had part, so that we fared richly, richly, and having a pleasant Night's Repose, we got up to be gone, about an Hour before Day.

[ III ]

The 8th of the Tenth Month, being the Third Day of the Week.

This Day, having rowed from the last Place till two Hours before Sun-set, we got on Shore at a Place where had been an Indian Settlement, it being on a high Bank, from whence we had a Prospect of the Sound. Here we employed ourselves to go and fetch Bushes, to make Shelter against the Wind and Dews of the Night, and in cutting of dry Grass to lie on, and getting of Wood, which was at a considerable Distance; but we resolved to have it, if Labour would purchase it. Those that were not employed in these Services, were providing of Water and Victuals, for we had always enough to do. We had a pleasant Night, and rested well.

The 9th of the Tenth Month, being the Fourth Day of the Week.

This Morning, about Sun-rising we saw a Cannoo of Carolina-Indians going to the Southward a hunting, they kept the Western Side of the Sound, being fearful of us; but we had a Cannoo manned with Indians and Spaniards, to go after them, to speak with them, being desirous to get them to carry

Letters to inform of our coming, not knowing but we might alarm the out Settlements of Carolina.

This Cannoo of ours pursued the other, but the Carolina-Indians put on Shore, run into a Marsh, and fired at our People; the Spanish-Indians, who could speak the Yammaw's Language, called to them, and told them their Business, withal, intreating them to come to them; but they answered, that they were going a hunting for the Season, therefore desired them to be gone, for they would not come near them: Thus our People returned to us, and the Carolina-Indians went their Way, and we prepared to go forward. We having the Cassekey of St. Wans with us, sent him away the Night before, to see if he could meet any of the Yammawsee-Indians of Carolina, he being acquainted with, and related to them; but this Cannoo had passed him. We set forward, and rowed all the Day, till about an Hour before Sun-set, and then we put on Shore at an Indian Field, which was over-grown with Sedge, it being low, wet Land; here we made our accustomed Provision for Lodging, lying this Night in a Wood; and having dressed Victuals for this Time and the next Day, and having rested well, about Day-break, or sooner, we left this Place.

The 10th of the Tenth Month, being the Fifth Day of the Week.

This Day, about ten o' Clock, we cross'd an Inlet, but the Tide being against us, we put on Shore at an old Indian Field ; at which Place, under the Shelter of some Trees, was the Cassekey of St. Wans ; and here we staid, and drank some Casseena. There was abundance of Rabbits, but we made no stay. The Cassekey was sent from hence before to make Discovery, and we followed, rowing, till an Hour before Sun-set ; by which Time we got to a Place called St. Catalena, where hath been a great Settlement of Indians, for the Land hath been cleared for Planting for some Miles distant. Here also we met the Cassekey, and also with a Canhoo of Carolina-Indians, being a Man, his Wife and Children, having his Dogs and other Hunting Implements, for to lie out this Winter Season. The Spanish Captain, by his Interpreter, discoursed with him about carrying our Letters, which he readily assented to, whereupon the Spanish Captain set himself to writing to the Governor of Carolina.

We had a large Field to lie in, and no manner of Shelter but what was a Mile distant or more ; but we spared not Pains, for some fell to cutting of Boughs and Brush, at that great Distance, some to carrying it to the Place, some to get Fire-wood, so that by Night we had a brave Shelter.

The

The Spanish Captain sent for me, to write to the Governor of Carolina, which I did ; and I writ also to a Person of my Acquaintance there. The Letters being finished, and Night coming on, I delivered my Letters to the Captain, and returned to my Company. By this Time they had compleated our Booth, which we thought was sufficient, if no Rain fell. We then provided our Victuals for our Supper, and for our next Day's Travel, as also some dry Grass to lie on, in Hopes of resting well this Night. About ten at Night the Carolina-Indians went with our Letters for Carolina.

The 11th of the Tenth Month, being the Sixth Day of the Week.

This Morning, about two Hours before Day, we had a Gust of Wind at the North-West, and the Sky was overcast, and look'd as though we should have abundance of Rain ; in a little Time the Rain fell, against which we had no Shelter but our Blankets, and it held till break of Day, at which Time began the North-West Wind to blow violent hard, and cold. Our Shelter was fronting the North-West, and we fell to work to shift our Booth, and to getting more Boughs, Brush and Grass ; the Grass was to fill and keep up a Bank of Earth which we raised, about three or four Feet high, to break the Wind from us ; all this Day were we employed in enlarging larging our Booth, and getting of Wood for Firing: The North-West blew extream hard, and the Night being very cold, we could get but little Rest.

The 12th of the Tenth Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Day the Wind continued without ceasing. We began to mend what the Fire had put out of Order by Night, and heav'd up more Earth on our Booth, and made some Enlargement; for we were not negligent by Day to provide for the Night, which pinch'd us with Cold, especially aged Robert Barrow, who having a violent Flux, that had held him from Augustine hither, and by the violent Cold being grown on him, so that he could not govern his Weakness, nor get his natural Rest; he was so extreamly racked with the Cold, that in this Juncture of Hardship we could get no Warmth in him; but he was contented with our mean Help, although he received little Benefit by it. This Day, at Times, we went out to get Wood, having a long Way to go in an open Field, and the Cold almost benumbing us, by that Time we could get to the Booth. This Evening the Wind was somewhat abated, and we were in great Hopes it was over, but it blowed fiercely the latter Part of the Night.

The 13th of the Tenth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Morning the Wind was somewhat abated, and the Sun gave forth a little Warmth ; Josepb Kirle borrowed a Gun, Powder and Shot of the Spaniards, and went to kill some wild Geese, or what other Game he might come up with, but he had no Success, coming Home without any Game ; and we were well content with a Dinner of Indian Corn and Strung Beef. The Spanish Indians hunted all these three Days and kill'd several Deer, but they eat them as fast as they kill'd them, having little or no other Provision, their Corn being spent.

The latter Part of this Day the Wind was very moderate, and we hoped to be going the next Morning, whereupon we provided for the next Day's Travel.

The 14th of the Tenth Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Morning we embarked, and set forward, having fair Weather, and the Wind down ; we rowed all Day till three o' Clock, being come to a great Inlet of the Sea, but the Weather look'd as though we should have Wind and Rain ; and to cross the Inlet would be dangerous, it being about two Leagues over, and little Wind making a rough Sea : So we put on Shore, it being high Land, and lofty Woods, mostly Pine and live Oaks :
Here

Here we made all the Expedition we could to get Shelter against the Weather. The Indians set to work to build themselves little Huts or Wigwams, which they had not done till now. They got small Palmetto Leaves, and covered their Buildings, but ours were covered mostly with Boughs, which would not keep out much Rain. By Night we had a great deal of Rain and Wind. And it being the Evening of the Spaniards Christmas, they used some of their Ceremonies, with tinkling on a Piece of Iron, and singing, begging for somewhat for the Day following; they begged of the Indians, and the Indians in like manner begged of the Spaniards, and what the Indians gave the Spaniards, that was returned to the Indians.

The 16th of the Tenth Month, being the Fourth Day of the Week.

This Morning was very foggy, and proved a rainy Day, but we kept rowing till two in the Afternoon; the Rain being hard, and the Wind increased at North-East. We put on Shore, but the Captain told us we should not stay here long, he intending to go further, and if the Weather permitted, would go all Night; but the Weather was likelier to be worse than better, and so we sat in the Rain till Night was come, when we intreated the Captain, that we might stay there all Night, and that we might provide against the Weather;

Weather ; but he pretended the Weather would break up, and he would be gone ; but there was no likelihood of it, for the Rain increased, and we were all wet and starved with Cold ; at length he assented to stay. Then were we hard put to it (being Night) to provide Shelter ; but in the Dark did we work till we had made us a Shelter that would keep the Rain from us. Having Fires we put off our wet Cloaths, and dry'd them as well as we could, and towards Morning the Rain broke up.

The 17th of the Tenth Month, being the Fifth Day of the Week.

This Morning at Sun-rising we set forward, and rowed till Noon, at which Time we came to an Inlet and put on Shore, where we staid all the Afternoon, and dried our Blankets, and what was not dried last Night ; we also dressed Victuals, and as soon as it was Dark went from hence, designing to row all Night ; but having an intricate Passage amongst Marshes, where were divers Creeks and Ways, that we rowed sometimes in a wrong one, then back again, and rowed in another : About Midnight our Pilots were at a loss, not knowing which Way to go, nor where to find any dry Land, that we might go on Shore ; but three of our Boats rowed till we found a dry Knap to get on Shore, where we lay till Day, having good Fires. As soon

As it was light, we got our Boats, and went to look for the rest of our Company, whom we found, having made their Cannoos fast to the Sedge, and sitting therein till we came to them.

The 18th of the Tenth Month, being the Sixth Day of the Week.

The Night was extream foggy, and so was this Morning; but we searched about, and found our Passage, being a little Channel, just broad enough for our Boats to pass, and about a Mile in Length. After we past this, we came into a great Sound, which went down into a large Inlet, that the Land could not be seen from the one Side to the other: Into the Sound comes down a great River, called the Sabina River, which, when we got into the Course of, the Water was fresh, though in this great Sound; the Spaniards called it the Cross Bar, or St. a Cruce. About Noon we got over the Sound, and here we rowed out to Sea for two Leagues, to get into another Sound: About three o' Clock, the Wind began to blow at North-East, and it looked very black, so that we feared a Storm. We desired to get on Shore to provide against it, but the Captain said, about a few Leagues further we should get near Port-Royal; but in the Interim we saw a Cannoo on the Shore, and we made to her, and there we found some Indian Wigwams : Here we went on Shore. This was a Cannoo laden with Skins, that belonged to Merchants at Carolina, having four Indians in her ; but three of them run away, fearing the Spaniards.

The Indian Wigwams were in a bad Condition, not fit to keep out the Weather, so we set to work to mend them, and here being plenty of Palmetto Leaves, we covered them, and made Addition to them ; but the Storm of Wind and Rain came violently before we could compleat our Work, and held all Night ; yet we lay indifferent dry, tho' the Storm was very great.

The 19th of the Tenth Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Morning the Storm of Wind continued at the North-East with Rain, and we being likely to stay some Time here, enlarged our Wigwams, fearing a North-Wester, which, about ten o' Clock this Day, began to blow fiercely, with Snow, for some Hours ; the Wind was so violent, that we feared lest the tall Pines should be blown on us. We sent the Carolina-Indian out, to bring his three Mates in, but they would not. The Spanish-Indians made great Complaint for Food, and we gave amongst them four Roves of Corn, being unwilling to spare any more, not knowing how long we should be detained by the Weather: Some of our People had almost eaten up their Shares; and we expected, should we be detained long, we must supply them with what we had to spare.

The 20th of the Tenth Month, being the First Day of the Week.

This Day the Wind continued at North-East, and extream cold it was; but we, in our Wigwams, were well enough secured from the Cold. About Noon our Mariners Wigwam got Fire, and was burnt; theirs was the leewardmost of all (for we had eight Wigwams) otherwise the Whole had been in Danger. We understood, that we were not above two or three Day's Journey from the English Settlements; but the Spanish-Indians told us that it was more, till we were better informed by this Indian who belonged to that Place.

The 21st of the Tenth Month, being the Second Day of the Week.

This Day early we set forward, and passed Port-Royal Sound, being some Leagues over, and about two o' Clock in the Afternoon we put on Shore, the Tide being against us: Here was a close Wood, where we lay indifferent well all Night.

M 2. The

*The 22d of the Tenth Month, being the Third
Day of the Week.*

This Morning early we set forward, and rowed till one o' Clock in the Afternoon, at which Time we got to the first Settlement in Carolina, belonging to one Richard Bennet, who received us kindly, and provided plentifully for us, of good Food, and good Drink, shewing the Spaniards all Kindness possibly he could, for our Sakes, which the Spaniards did acknowledge, and we staid here all Night.

*The 23d of the Tenth Month, being the Fourth
Day of the Week.*

This Morning having eaten plentifully, and drank also, we went from hence in Company with some of the Inhabitants, about ten o' Clock, and rowed till two Hours within Night; having passed by several Plantations, we put on Shore on a Point of Land, to wait a Tide, having a Wood to shelter in, and making good Fires, we staid till Mid-night, at which Time we went from thence, and rowed till an Hour or two before Day, by which Time we got to Governor Blake's House.

The 24th of the Tenth Month, being the Fifth Day of the Week.

This Morning when the Governor arose, he sent for Joseph Kirle, John Smith, Andrew Murray, and me, making Enquiry of us concerning concerning our Passage, and on what Account the Spaniards came with us? We render'd him an Account of the Governor of Augustine's Generosity towards us, and that he sent us freely, without any Demands, except what we had freely contracted: The Governor sent for the Spanish Captain in, and received the Letters that were sent from the Governor of Augustine, also our Obligation, which the Governor accepted. The Governor shewed a great deal of Kindness to us, and made Enquiry into all our Conditions. Robert Barrow he sent to his Neighbour Margaret Bammer's, who, he said, would be careful, and nurse him: She was an ancient Friend, who lived about two Miles distant, so he went on Horseback. The Governor cloathed Joseph Kirle, John Smith, Andrew Murray, me, my Wife and Child; to the rest of our People he gave each of them a Duffel-blanket, which would keep them warm, and plenty of Victuals and Drink was provided: We obtained Leave of the Governor to permit the Spaniards to go to Charles-Town with us, being willing to gratify them according to our Abilities..

The 25th of the Tenth Month, being the Sixth Day of the Week.

This Day, in the Afternoon, Joseph Kirle, John Smith, I, my Wife and Child, went to Margaret Bammer's, where Robert Barrow was, and stay'd with him till the next Morning, when the Spaniards called for us as they came by Water.

The 26th of the Tenth Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Morning we went from hence, with the Spaniards, for Charles-Town, where we arrived about an Hour within Night.

The Gentlemen of the Town appointed a publick House, of good Credit, to entertain the Spaniards with Meat, and Drink, and Lodging; which was done to the Spaniards Admiration, and they staid here eight Days. We got our People together, and agreed jointly to give the Spaniards One Hundred Pieces of Eight, which Joseph Kirle and I divided amongst them according to their Degrees; we two adding to the Sum.

The 4th of the Eleventh Month, called January, being the Second Day of the Week.

Joseph Kirle and I provided a small Present to send to the Governor of Augustine: And this Day we went with the Spaniards to Governor Blake's, staying there one Day; the Governor treated the Spaniards, and having compleated his Letters, gave the Spanish Captain a considerable Present, and sent him homewards, ordering them to call on the Yammasee-Indians, where they might have as much Indian Corn as they pleased, to carry Home with them, the Towns of these Indians being being about two or three Days rowing from Charles-Town.

The 9th of the Eleventh Month, being the Seventh Day of the Week.

This Day I returned, with my Wife and Child to Charles-Town, leaving Robert Barrow in a weak and low Condition with Margaret Bammer. I, my Wife and Family, with Joseph Kirle, were entertained by Captain James Ribee, the Time of our Stay in Carolina. Our Seamen were mostly employed, some in one Vessel, and some in another that belonged to the Port.

The 6th of the Twelfth Month, called February, being the Second Day of the Week.

Joseph Kirle went from hence to the Island of Providence, in Hopes of gaining speedy Passage for Pennsylvania, the Place of his Abode.

Towards the Beginning of this Month, Robert Barrow was brought to Charles-Town, being extream weak, and was lodged at the House of Mary Cross, who nursed him.

The 18th of the First Month, called March, being the Fifth Day of the Week.

This Day, I, with my Family, and Robert Barrow, embarked, and set Sail for Pennsylvania, and had fourteen Days Passage to Philadelphia.

The 4th of the Second Month, called April, being the First Day of the Week.

This Day, in the Evening, Robert Barrow departed this Life, and was buried the 6th following, having passed through great Exercises, in much Patience; and in all the Times of our greatest Troubles, was ready to counsel us to Patience, and to wait for what the Lord our God would bring to pass: And he would often express, that it was his Belief, that our Lives should be spared, and not be lost in that Wilderness, and amongst those People, who would have made a Prey of us. And so this good Man, having finished his Course with Joy, laid down his Body, and is with him who rewards the Just.

Thus, having compleated our hard Passage hither, wherein God's great Mercy, and wonderful Loving-kindness hath been largely extended to us, in delivering and preserving us to this Day and Time; I hope that I, with all those of us, that have been spared hitherto, shall never be forgetful nor unmindful of the low Estate we were brought to; but that we may double our Diligence in serving the Lord God, is the Breathing and earnest Desire of my Soul. Amen.
